MILK PRODUCERS TO VOTE ON AGENCY

The Milk Control Board has mailed ballots to producers in this area on which to mark their vote, for or against, the formation of a milk marketing agency. The ballots are to be returned by mail during the period from Oct. 29 to Nov. 10. A ballot not returned is counted as a vote against the project.

The milk marketing agency proposal was submitted to the producers earlier this year and at a recent meeting, the decision to go ahead with the plan was confirmed. A milk marketing agency can be established under the Milk Control Act as amended last year.

The executive of District 7, which covers this area, is solidly behind the scheme and all members are urged to support the proposal. It is expected that in the next couple of weeks a campaign to "get out the vote" will be carried on by the producers.

TRUCK ROLLS OVER, TWO MEN COVERED WITH WHITE PAINT

Bill West, Holland Landing, and Ben Thompson, Richvale, were shaken up and covered with four gallons of white paint when their truck skidded on wet pavement near Aurora cemetery, Yonge St., breaking off a hydro pole, and rolled down a 15-foot embankment on Friday morning last week.

Plumbers with J. J. Wall, Oak Ridges, they were driving to Holland Landing. West was driving the Wall panel truck which had about $700 damage. The boys were expected to telephone Mr. Wall's office when they arrived at Aurora. Instead they returned with police, covered with paint. West was taken to a doctor by Mr. Wall for chest examination which revealed nothing more than slight bruises.

261 Sign Petition To Subsidize Bus Line

A petition signed by 261 people in Newmarket was sent to the town council Monday night requesting a subsidy to support the operation of a town bus service which was discontinued last Saturday. Councillor Frank Bowser said that the people who signed want the bus service to continue as it had been operating.

Last week Larry Needler, representing the Newmarket Bus Lines, told council that the bus route, the second the line started in Newmarket, would have to be discontinued because it operated at a loss. It served the north west part of town, Gorham St. and the area around Pickering College.

Councillor Charles VanZant, chairman of a special committee of council concerned with the bus routes, said that the statistics showing the number of passengers per day and the revenue, revealed an average loss of $57 a week.

"We've got to look after the public's request, no matter how we do it," said Councillor Lorne Paynter. "It will probably have to be submitted to a vote."

Council referred the petition to the town solicitor, K. M. R. Stiver. "We don't know what powers we have in such a case," said Mayor Joseph Vale. "We will have to find out what we can do about it and then decide a policy on it."

The petition asked that the town subsidize the route until March, 1952, "to see what results will come from winter operations".

Last week Mr. Needler told council that the route had not been paying for itself since it was started last March. The bus had been picking up regular passengers but the volume of passengers did not increase sufficiently to pay for its operation.

If Newmarket were to subsidize the bus route, it would mean that the town would be paying for the loss of money in the operation of the bus.

K. G. Flett has been appointed manager of the Bank of Montreal branch at Wales, near Cornwall. He has been accountant at the Newmarket branch for the past ten years and was active in community activities.

He was treasurer of the Salvation Army drive for eight years, treasurer of the Optimist Club, recently treasurer of the floodlight campaign, chairman of the Board of Stewards at Trinity United Church and active in the Masonic order. Mr. Flett and his family will move to Wales early in November.

HUMANE SOCIETY CANVASSES FOR FUNDS FOR SHELTER

PLAN FREE SKATING, CLASS FUN ON 31ST

The Newmarket Recreation Commission has discontinued its annual Hallowe'en parade and treat at the arena this year in favor of class or school parties in the afternoon and the provision of free skating for children 10 years and over at night.

The commission will stand the cost of the school parties and pay for the skating on Wednesday, Oct. 31.

It has been generally felt that the school population is now too large to permit the mass gatherings and costumed parades of other years.

SEES STEPS TAKEN TO REDUCE SMOKE

In response to complaints about the smoke nuisance, Deputy-Reeve J. L. Spillette told the Era and Express this week that he believed that an effort would be made to control the nuisance. "I am convinced that those responsible will take steps on their own to cut down on smoke in the public interest," he said.

After all, he pointed out, "we all have a stake in the public welfare of Newmarket." Mr. Spillette was the sponsor of an anti-smoke by-law which is still awaiting passage by council. He said that he received numerous complaints each week about the smoke nuisance from citizens.

Taxi Driver Calls Late, Neighbor And Husband Deliver Baby At Home

Taxi driver Eric Tallister, Oak Ridges, travelled one lap behind the stork yesterday. When he called at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Lacombe, Lake Wilcox, to take her to York County hospital, Newmarket, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Healey, neighbors of the Lacombe's were busy setting up a temporary maternity room.

At 1 p.m. yesterday, Mrs. Lacombe had a bouncing baby boy and she named him Alexander. Her husband was away at work and she had called for a taxi to pick her up at the small cottage home on the Second Concession of Whitchurch, a few hundred yards north of Lake Wilcox.

That was about 12.30. When the taxi arrived, she told her neighbor, Mrs. Healey, who was waiting with her that, that "We don't need the taxi now." Since there was no doctor available at the time, Mrs. Healey made the delivery in the tiny cottage room with the assistance of her husband.

Young Alexander is the Lacombe's fourth son and last night he was looking fit and sleeping soundly in his basket. The taxi driver, Eric Pallister, seemed more worried than anybody. He said that when he arrived at the home, he helped the other couple with "things to do."

"I was scared stiff," Tallister said.

"There's nothing particularly to make a fuss about," said Mrs. Healey. "I had eight children myself and had them all at home." She also has 14 grandchildren.

BREAKS HIP

Mrs. Fobert is in the Private Patients' Pavilion at Toronto General Hospital, where she has undergone an operation reported to be very successful.

British Soldiers In Korea Write Era, Ask For Pen Pals

A letter arriving at the Era and Express office this week showed us clearly that a newspaper really travels once it starts out, and, even more important, that our community has another personal link with world affairs and a chance to show its interest.

Of course, even in the ordinary course of events any paper gets around. The Era and Express turns up regularly, for example, in Vancouver, Moose Jaw, Kirkland Lake, Winnipeg, Halifax, and Newmarket, England. It's quite a list and growing longer. Every week M.P.'s read the paper in the reading rooms in Ottawa. There's even one copy that goes up via White Horse to a subscriber in the Yukon Territory.

However, this letter out-distanced all that, for the letter came from Korea. There aren't many details, so we can only imagine just how the long arm of coincidence was working this time.

The writers are L-Cpl. Tom Pirrie (22541617) and L-Cpl. Joseph Tiffany (22393607), who give their ages as 23 and 21. They are serving in the United Nations forces in Korea (British Element) and, as they say, "Your paper came to our notice in an old magazine."

They must have liked the sound of Newmarket for they are not content with just that bit of information. "We would be grateful," they continue, "if you could spare us a few lines in your columns in an effort to start correspondence with members of your community." They give their address: First Commonwealth Division Provost Company, B.A.P.O. 3, Korea.

It's more than likely that Tom Pirrie and Joseph Tiffany will be reading about themselves in the "Era." We hope that at the same time they'll be getting a bag-full of mail, and every letter post-marked "Newmarket."

ONTARIO FIELD ARCHERS AT NEWMARKET

Over 150 archers were in Newmarket last weekend for the Ontario Hunting and Field Archers' annual banquet and deer shoot. On Sunday the hills west of Glenville were alive with archers competing in the annual deer shoot. The field archers conduct their competitions much like golfers play their game. They tramp over hills and through woods, shooting painted life-size deer targets set out on a course. Each archer is allowed to shoot a maximum of three arrows at each target. Vital parts of the deer including heart, lungs and head are marked and to hit one means a higher score.

Only mishap of the shoot was when an archer drew back his steel hunting bow and it snapped, a piece of the bow hitting him in the side of the face. Although the blow was painful, he suffered no injury. The banquet was held Saturday in the Legion Hall where the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Legion catered.

Shown at top is Tony Brookes, 12, a junior member of the Newmarket Archers aiming at a deer target. He was fourth in the junior boys' group under 14. Below is the winner of the shoot, Reg. Edie, Dunnville, who finished with a score of 795 and took home the Newmarket Archers' deer head trophy. A party of 20 archers will be travelling to Restaule next month for the opening of the deer season.

The reeve of Whitchurch township, Ivan McLaughlin, was winner of the Esso Special at the North York County plowing matches, Wednesday last week. Winning this prize in the county match entitles him to enter the international match next year. He has won an Esso Special at every county match since 1946, but, as yet, has not won the international match prize. He will try again next year and if he is successful, will win a trip to England. Above, the township reeve looks on as F. B. Pidgeon, left, Imperial Oil representative from Toronto measures his furrows. He was third in the under 14 years class and won three prizes. Mr. McLaughlin competed in class one, open tractor, sod.

SHUR-GAIN FEED SERVICE

Shur-Gain Milk Producer Means Low Cost Milk Production

When you get right down to it, there is no substitute for pasture. You may put up some dandy hay and good silage, but fresh green pasture has both of these beaten when it comes to palatability and feeding value.

In the winter your cattle cannot get this freshness and feeding value. Their appetites may lag and their milk supply fall off.

This can be overcome by feeding a balanced palatable ration, consisting of a mixture of your own grain and SHUR-GAIN Milk Producer.

SHUR-GAIN Milk Producer is formulated to supply those feed essentials which are not found in sufficient quantities in stored feeds such as hay, silage and grain. It also increases the palatability of the ration. SHUR-GAIN Milk Producer has a high molasses content which is very palatable to cattle.

IN MEMORIAM

Doak—In loving memory of my dear grandmother, Letitia Doak, who passed away Oct. 23, 1950.
Oh how patient in thy suffering.
When no hand could give thee ease;
God the helper of the helpless,
Saw thy pain and gave thee peace.
Lovingly remembered by Hazel, Jackie and Val.

Mitchell—In loving memory of our dear mother who passed away Oct. 31, 1948.
Two dear bright eyes, a tender smile,
A loving heart that knew no guile,
Deep trust in God that all was right,
Her joy to make some other bright.
If sick or suffering one she knew,
Some gentle act of love she'd do,
No thought of self, but of the other,
We know He said "Well done dear mother."
Too dearly loved to ever be forgotten, Jack and Helen, Herb and Marie.

Moffatt—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Amy Elizabeth Moffatt, who passed away Oct. 25, 1947.
Two dear bright eyes, a tender smile,
A loving heart that knew no guile;
Deep trust in God that all was right,
Her joy to make some other bright,
If sick or suffering one she knew,
Some gentle act of love she'd do;
No thought of self, but of the other,
I know He said "Well done," dear mother.
Sadly missed by husband and family.

Moffatt—In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother Amy Elizabeth Moffatt, who passed away Oct. 25, 1947.
Four years have passed and gone,
Since one we loved so well;
Was taken from our home on earth,
With Jesus Christ to dwell.
The flowers we place upon her grave,
May wither and decay;
But the love for her who sleeps beneath,
Shall never fade away.
Ever remembered by Violet, Harvey, Nancy, Beverley and Tommy Graham.

Pickering—In loving memory of my dear uncle Sgt. George Pickering, Irish Regt. of Canada, killed in Italy, Oct. 24, 1944.
Time may heal the broken-hearted,
Years may make the wound less sore;
But it cannot fill the longing for the loved one gone before.
Who shall say the grief is lessened,
Though the smile may hide the tears,
Memories keep the wound still open
Despite the passing of the years.
Ever remembered by niece, Betty.

Pickering—In loving memory of my dear brother, Sgt. George Pickering, of the Irish Regt. killed in Italy, Oct. 24, 1944.
Memories are treasures no one can steal,
Death is a heartache nothing can heal;
You're always in my mind no matter what I do,
All the time within my heart there are thoughts of you.
Never for a moment are you very far away
Absent and yet near you seem and dearer every day,
Some may forget you now you are gone,
But I shall remember no matter how long.
Too well-loved to be forgotten by sister, Eileen.

Rae—In loving memory of our mother, Mabel Rae, who passed away Oct. 26, 1944.
Always remembered by the family.

Sutton—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Robert Sutton, who died Oct. 24, 1945.
Time takes away the edge of grief,
But memory turns back every leaf,
Ever remembered by wife and family.

Kettleby News

A special quilting bee was held at the home of Mrs. N. Greensides by the Christ church Ladies' Guild on Tuesday, Oct. 16. All members present enjoyed a very happy day together. Our hostess served us hot tomato soup and tea which, with our sandwiches, made a very tasty lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Black and family had Sunday dinner with Mrs. E. Barradell.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harmon and Mr. and Mrs. J. Archibald motored to Bronte on Sunday, Oct. 21, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Jamieson and family, also to visit their son Gordon who is in hospital in Hamilton suffering from severe burns received some time ago while working on the hydro. He is only 23 years old and has lost part of one arm and only has a thumb and first finger on the other hand.

Our deepest sympathy is given to the members of the Elliott and Erhemler families in their recent sad bereavement in the passing of Mrs. Erhemler, the former Jessie Elliott of Kettleby.

Mr. and Mrs. Traviss of Toronto were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Harmon.

On Sunady, Oct. 21, "Children's and Youths' Day", the service of Holy Baptism was held in St. Mary Magdalene's church, Schomberg, and four young lives were dedicated to God's service. They were: Gwendolyn Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jennings, Sandra Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. F. MacDonald, Terrance Arthur, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Moody, and Stephen Patrick, son of Dr. and Mrs. Edwin V. Abbott.

May we remind you again of the "Sunday School of the Air" which is broadcast every Sunday over C.F.R.B. from 9.30 to 9.45 a.m. This is a very interesting session for both adults and children to listen to.

We were very glad to see Miss Ada Ineson with us on Sunday. It is always nice to see our former members visiting us.

Birthday greetings to Mrs. Ed. Haines whose birthday is on Thursday, Oct. 25.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Harmon who celebrated their 29th wedding anniversary on Oct. 25. May you both spend many more happy years together.

We don't think any of us realize what the men suffer who returned from the wars; if we did, we would be more tolerant of them and try to help them more.

Don't forget the library at Mrs. N. Sproule's. Anyone in the community may borrow these books and they are well worth reading.

Library hours are on Wednesdays only from 3-5 p.m. and 7-10 p.m.

Newmarket this week is having a house-to-house canvass in the interests of the North York Humane society. It is planned that the actual canvass of the town will be completed by the end of the month, Mrs. David Askew, president of the group, said.

Volunteer canvassers are conducting this blitz campaign for funds because the Humane Society's need for monies is urgent. Adequate shelter for the animals must be provided. At present they are out-of-doors.

Property is being purchased by the society. It is located on Main St. N., on the old slaughter grounds. The old buildings are being renovated by volunteer labor. The shelter will be known as the John Stallard Memorial Shelter, in appreciation of the many contributions made to this work by the late John Stallard.

Money is needed immediately if the society is to operate effectively. The society receives no grants from either municipal or provincial authorities. In fact, the provincial S.P.C.A., with which all Humane societies in Ontario are affiliated, receives a total grant of only $1,000 to carry on the work for the entire province.

Until the local Humane societies become established, they must depend on public donations. Later, to these general contributions will be added the small revenues which the societies are able to raise through membership fees and income from the services they will provide.

The entire community benefits when an active Humane Society is in operation. Any animal who has distemper and is left starving in the district is a menace to the children of the town as well as to the dogs and other animals. Everyone is sufficiently aware of the dangers of a mad dog biting a child. The disease may be spread to other dogs. When one of these stricken animals attacks cattle or sheep, costly damage may result. This summer three mad dogs were destroyed by the North York Humane Society.

The society investigates all cases of cruelty to animals. It looks after all injured or abandoned animals or birds. If anyone finds a stray dog they merely have to phone the society to have it called for and placed in the shelter. Likewise, people who lose their pets will be able to contact the society in their search for them. The society will have animals for adoption and will perform various veterinary services.

Most of all, we'd like you to note the easy-to-take price tags our cars wear—what a whale of a lot more automobile you get for your money in today's Buicks than you'll get elsewhere.

Oak Ridges News

MRS. LAURA ROLLING, CORRESPONDENT, PHONE KING 8

Child Fractures Leg

Three-year-old Babbs Taylor broke her leg when struck by a car driven by Harry Handler of Toronto at Elmgrove and Fergus Ave., Lake Wilcox, on Sunday. She was picked up by the driver and taken to her father's home. Later she was examined by Dr. Crawford Rose of Aurora and removed to York County hospital, Newmarket. No charges were laid.

While it was expected that two rooms of the new Lake Wilcox school would be occupied this week, unavoidable delay in getting hydro has postponed the date.

Chairs Division Guide Council

At a meeting of York County Division Girl Guide Council held at Sutton last Friday evening, Mrs. D. R. Gunn of Oak Ridges, division commissioner, was chairman. Eight districts were represented.

At a dinner meeting of Oak Ridges Lions Club at Ridge Inn on Monday evening, E. L. McCarron delivered an interesting address on meat production and reason for the high cost of meat. The program was under the farmers' and agriculture committee headed by Professor Ernest Smith. Mr. McCarron's talk was a resume of highlights of a report given to a four-day convention of meat packers recently.

He predicted that beef prices are likely to remain at their present level but pork prices will decline.

On Nov. 7, the club will hold a turkey roll at Oak Ridges Glass and Mirror store, proceeds of which will be applied to Christmas baskets. A travelling pie will start out this week on its journey to raise funds for welfare work.

Tommy Borden, ten-months'-old child of Mr. and Mrs. John Borden, was taken to the Hospital for Sick Children on Monday, suffering bronchial pneumonia, which followed an attack of whooping cough.

Mrs. George Gourlay has been quite sick with a cold and chest condition. The prevalence of mild influenza has taken a great many persons to their beds.

A few of those most interested in winterizing Lake Wilcox community hall are putting in long after-work hours insulating the walls and putting up wall-board siding. A lowered ceiling will help to make the place more comfortable. A second large oil space heater has been put in and bingos are being held twice weekly. The Lake Wilcox - Oak Ridges Community and Ratepayers' Assoc. authorized the plan, which will cost roughly $600. The work is done by voluntary labor on behalf of members of the association.

Mr. and Mrs. Lancley Mills and children, Foxboro, visited Mr. Mills' mother, Mrs. Robert Ash, on Sunday.

Earlier this month, Mrs. Bob Ash entertained 30 friends to an evening of euchre followed by a delicious lunch. It was the occasion of her husband's birthday and was a surprise to him. Mr. Ash has been on the lake boats when his birthday came around, with the exception of last year.

Mrs. Mabel Lloyd of Aurora visited her daughter, Mrs. Alfred Allen, on Sunday.

MOUNT PISGAH

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Norman on the occasion of their 30th wedding anniversary, Saturday, Oct. 27.

We have received word that Mr. Joe Duncan has had to return to the hospital.

Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith and Shirley were: Mrs. Alf. Pattenden and daughter, Muriel, Vandorf; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Foote and family, Cedar Valley; and Mr. R. Treece of Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. David McIntosh, West Hill, visited Mrs. Peggy Moynihan and family on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Stiles, Sutton, visited Mr. and Mrs. John Ash on Sunday.

The monthly Home and School meeting will be held at S. S. No. 7, Whitchurch school, on Friday, Oct. 26, a 8.30 p.m. The theme of the meeting is "Health," and as a special speaker, Dr. Reddick of the Ontario Hospital, Aurora, will speak on child study.

Make a special effort to come and support your Home and School club. The ladies provide.

Mr. and Mrs. Merton McNelly and Miss Dorothy Curl were in Toronto on Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Thornloe of the United church is one of the teachers of the Bible study class at Trinity United church, Uxbridge. Among those attending the classes are: Mr. and Mrs. Erle Lockie, Mrs. Carl Meyers, Mrs. A. B. Lockie, Mrs. Black, Miss Emm, Mrs. Ballard.

The W. A. meeting of the United church was held at the home of Mrs. Geo. Kester on Thursday evening.

The anniversary services of the Zephyr United church will be held on Sunday, Nov. 11. The Rev. Mr. Lockie of Stouffville will be the guest speaker. Special music will be provided by the choir. A supper will be served the following week. See notices later.

SPITS HIT THE ICE

Hockey railbirds, impatient to get a peek at the Spitfires, will get ample opportunity to look over this year's prospects in the coming week. The Spitfires will be taking to the ice almost nightly from here on, reports Coach Al. Shewchuk. Practices have been scheduled for tonight, Friday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Practice time is 7 p.m.

AURORA LADIES' HOCKEY

The organization meeting of the Aurora Ladies' Hockey team will be held in the Aurora arena, Monday, Oct. 29, at 8 p.m. The welcome mat is out for all ladies interested in playing hockey this winter. Aurora won the league championship last winter. Plans are afoot to make the North York Ladies' League bigger and better this season.

SIX TEAM GROUPING

Latest advice to the Spitfire executive from the O.H.A. indicates they will be grouped with Orillia, Stouffville, Woodbridge, Midland and Collingwood. Orillia, Stouffville and Woodbridge are rated as Senior B teams. Newmarket, Collingwood and Midland are classed as Intermediate A.

"POP" WALKER DONATES CUP

Interest is starting to simmer in the East Gwillimbury School League. Peter T. "Pop" Walker of Holland Landing has donated a handsome trophy as the prize for this year's champions. A meeting to organize the league is expected in the near future. Holland Landing school won the crown last year.

SKATING TOMORROW

The magic word that there was ice in the arena spread like wild-fire Monday. Flooding operations started Saturday night and continued through Sunday. There was a fine sheet of ice to greet Newmarket Figure Skating classes, first ones on Monday. First public skating will be held Friday evening. There will also be skating Saturday afternoon and evening.

Haskett's HASH

BY GEORGE HASKETT
Newmarket Sports Editor

As we make our rounds, we're amazed by the number of chaps taking an interest in seeing that the sport wheels keep rolling.

Sat in with the juvenile hockey execs headed by Bill Young. Those chaps are trying to do a job and bring Newmarket a cracker-jack O.M.H.A. juvenile entry. While it's some time before the team gets opposition, keep 'em in mind. They can use all the fans' support.

Another platoon of live wires is our Optimist laddies headed by Jack Hamilton, Don Warner, Frank Hollingsworth and Joe Dales. Don't believe for a minute anyone realizes the amount of time and effort that goes into organizing minor hockey and the cost. The Optimists are doing a terrific job in keeping minor sport, both hockey and baseball, rolling. Last year, the club took eight ice teams under their wing. That's a tall order.

These hockey teams just don't run by themselves. There has to be someone to make 'em roll. What we're getting at is that when they hit the ice, let's all pitch in and give 'em a boost. And the best way is to be a regular attendant and chuck in your contribution.

Another thing that struck us forcefully is the big lift that town league sport has received from the Newmarket Manufacturers' Assoc. The Association, as president Art Carson remarked, is young in years but they can see the need to keep sport rolling, sport for sport's sake, which in a word is town league activity. For how else is it possible to have say from 60 to 90 young and old roosters banging away at a softball or chasing the boot heel around the arena.

Jingos, that's the stuff we like to hear - the more playing the merrier. Thank you for those trophies for softball, hockey and bowling. It's the best news we've run across in years.

Disa and data: The rink is looking just dandy, for the hockey and skating filberts. Manager Stan Smith has rounded out the center ice area with a well-turned "N". We're going to have a new hooter to stop play too. It was installed Tuesday.

Ray Smith, ye prop of the Newmarket Sports and Cycle Shop, has taken over at the Hub's busiest corner, Main and Timothy. Very nice sir.

Hack Cain is reported ready to come out with the Spitfires. Tom Hare, Bob Pollock and Claude Pollock, Keswick's softball threesome, finished up the season with Sutton's championship winning Tri-County League crew, and did an excellent job by all reports. Ward Cornell, Pickering College tutor, has his travelling shoes on each Saturday now that the football season is in full swing. "Corky" does the broadcasts of the college games on CBC from London.

C. R. "Blackie" Blackstock advises a hockey school can be obtained for Nov. 24 if there's enough interest locally to warrant the venture. These schools are mighty fine and there shouldn't be coach or player missing when they come around. If anyone is interested, contact yours truly or give Blackie a shout.

Ray Rogers, chief booster of sport around the Kettleby countryside, advises Kettleby softball club will hold its softball banquet and dance Nov. 21. All proceeds from the event will go towards building up a fund to secure a Recreation Field out in that neck of the woods.

There's an unconfirmed rumor floating about that Andy Closs, bossman of Aurora Merchants who works at the Specialty, had himself a field day after his Merchants pickled the Specialty under the lights last Thursday.

News Of NEWMARKET LEGION

Newmarket will be the scene of the next district Legion meeting in May. This was decided last Sunday at Collingwood, where delegates from 22 branches gathered for a full day of parade, church service, banquet and business session.

The order of sequence in our Legion is branch, zone, district, provincial command and dominion command. Thus, one can realize that we will be hosts to a huge gathering of our comrades in May, and plans are now under way to ensure the success of the largest gathering of veterans ever seen in Newmarket.

Our next zone meeting will be in Stouffville on Nov. 7. Any wishing to attend will be provided with transportation if Comrade Harold Eaton is notified in advance. And don't forget that Wednesday is the night of the fights on television too.

A bingo will be held on Hallowe'en night at the Legion hall; and on Nov. 9 the monster variety and amateur show will take place. The committee reports that tickets will soon be on sale for this big event at the town hall.

The Ladies' Auxiliary had the opportunity of putting their skill and our new kitchen to the test, when about 125 members of the Archery Club held their banquet and meeting at our hall. From all reports, our ladies are second to none, and our kitchen proved successful too.

Two scholarships were presented to exceptional students at the Collingwood district meeting last Sunday.

Last Monday night, at our regular general meeting, it was decided to have a special general meeting on Thursday, Nov. 8, for the purpose of initiating the large group of new members of our branch. Keep this date in mind, comrades. The membership committee is planning a grand evening with the initiation ceremony and a social evening. No branch business will be discussed at this special meeting.

Fred Speer's Newmarket high school football team enjoyed a field day in their first bout with Frank Gregoire's Aurorans for the North York secondary schools senior footbal laurels. Taking to the air with an unbeatable assault the N.H.S. swamped Aurora 29-2. Don Busby, Aurora back fielder, broke the N.H.S. shut-out spell by kicking for two single points. # N.H.S. Continues Victory March

An over-powering aerial attack sparked by quarter-back Jerry Hugo's pin-point passing carried N.H.S. to a 29-2 win over Aurora last Friday afternoon. It was the opening game in a best two of three series for the North York Secondary Schools senior football championship.

The Newmarket aerial attack functioned with sensational smoothness. Jerry Hugo made no less than 21 of 23 short passes good to Alaistair Sinclair and Taylor Gilbert for gains from 5 to 15 yards.

Frank Gregoire's speedy backfield combo and strong line couldn't fathom the aerial gymnastics and were strictly on the defensive all through the afternoon duel. Oddly enough Aurora started off like coming champions. Don. Busby put his toe to the pigskin in the early minutes for two Aurora single points. Then Newmarket took control. Bob Forhan took a pitch out from Jerry Hugo for a major, Hugo converted. Hugo hit for TD in the second quarter on a reverse, made the convert good and hoofed a single. Newmarket continued the stampede in the second half on a TD plunge by Don. Trivett and Taylor Gilbert's touchdown catch over the Aurora goal-line. Alaistair Sinclair, Jerry Hugo and Ron. Connell rounded out the scoring with single points.

N.H.S. TAKES SUTTON

Newmarket High School "seconds" downed Sutton 11-6 at Pickering College field last Wednesday in the opening game of the North York Secondary Schools "senior seconds" football league. Sutton succumbed to an N.H.S. aerial offensive. Bob Forhan crossed the Sutton goal-line for both Newmarket touchdowns. Quarterback Wayne Robinson uncorked a long forward in the second quarter that Bob Forhan gathered in for the first. Robinson made good the convert. Newmarket made it a 11-0 on a razzle-dazzle backfield show, Wayne Robinson hitting Bob Bell with a short forward pass, Bell in turn getting away a lateral to Bob Forhan who scampered 35 yards on an end sweep.

Ron. Johnson, Sutton's backfield ace, skirted 15 yards around left end for Sutton's major in the fourth quarter and then booted for the extra point.

Expect To Appoint Aurora Director Soon

Some 15 to 20 applications have been received for the post of recreation director and arena manager in Aurora. The position was left vacant by the resignation of Tom. Dickson. The commission has interviewed most of the applicants and has boiled the list down to three or four. They are hoping to be able to name a director-manager within the next week.

The difficulties experienced in getting the Aurora arena open for hockey and skating appeared to be cleared up Tuesday evening. If this is the case, ice should be available within a few days.

Miami Bowlers Elect J. O. Little President

Plans for a bumper season at Miami Greens, Canada's one and only indoor lawn bowling institution, were set in motion at the annual general meeting held last week. J. O. Little, "grand old man" of bowling, was named president. Vice-presidents are G. L. Manning and Tommy Scott. Frank Courtney was returned as sec.-trens. Directors are Bob Pritchard, T .F. Doyle, John Macnab and C. F. Willis.

The following were appointed to the games committee: Andrew Murdison, Homer Blair, Bruce Gibson, Percy Hutchinson, Tommy Scott; house committee, Percy Hutchinson, Wally Adams, Geo. Hudson, Frank Prest and Phil Tod. The club has 65 members.

He Came - He Saw

He came, he saw, he conquered! Andy Closs, before branching all out into hockey, brought his Aurora Town League champions, the Merchants, to town last Thursday for a floodlight softball contest with Harry Boag's Office Specialty nine. Mr. Closs left saying, "I told you so." His Merchants, behind steady four-hit pitching from southpaw ace Jack Andrews, came through with a 6-4 win safely tucked away. It was a nip and tuck battle down to the fourth as southpaws Lefty Glover on Specialty mound and Jack Andrews waged a tight 1-0 duel.

Then the Aurora bats started to thunder in the fourth and fifth and it was a 4-1 ball game for the invaders. That got Mr. Glover out and John Shedlowick in. Aurora touched Sheddy for single runs in the sixth and seventh to hold their margin up. Specialty displayed signs of a revival with two runs in the seventh, rounded out by Don. Gibson's triple, and completed their scoring with a run in the eighth on an error and Charlie VanZant's poke into right field.

Aurora: A. Childs, E. MacDonald, P. Knowles, J. Andrews, A. Closs Jr., M. Sutton, D. Richardson, T. Barrager, H. Stephson.

'This Is Our Year' Spits Settle on Exec.

The feeling is growing that this could be the year for Newmarket to push to the top of the intermediate hockey show. The final draft of officers was completed at an executive meeting last week. Mickey Smith was elected manager and Larry Molyneaux assistant. Pete Preston was named trainer.

Honorary officers are: G. L. Manning, J. H. Gaidner, J. S. Law, A. J. Carson, H. D. Moore, A. Van Winsen, A. J. Davis, Max Smith, Lyman Rose, William Geer, Earl Weddell, J. L. Spillette, Father T. J. McCabe and Stan. Smith.

At a previous meeting, Al. Showchuk, popular defenseman of last year's Spitfires, was named playing coach, George Byers, pres.; Frank Johnston, vice-pres.; Frank Courtney, sec.; Deb. Cooper, treas. The six-man executive board is Leo Cull, Ed. Gibson, A. H. Topham, Earlby Ruthven, D. J. Kuhns, Dick Rupke. The team is expected to hit the ice this week for the first practice session.

JUVENILES PRACTICE

Newmarket juvenile hockey club executive, President Bill Young in the chair, met Tuesday night at the arena. Home playing nights for the team will be Tuesday. First practice has been scheduled for Monday, Nov. 5, at 6 p.m. All players interested in trying out with the team from Newmarket and district are asked to be on hand, says Coach Bohmer "Jing" Groves. Players must be under 18 as of Nov. 1 this year.

LADIES SOFTBALL BANQUET

There will be a large influx of lady softball players to town Friday. The annual banquet of the Barrie and District Ladies' Softball League is being held at the Canadian Legion hall here Friday, Oct. 26.

Proceedings get under way at 7 chimes. All five teams in the league — Stayner, Barrie, Midland, Orillia and Newmarket, are expected to have large delegations present. The election of officers for the league for the coming season will also feature the evening.

HASHMAN AWARD

'To Mr. Secretary'

Each team, each league, each organization needs someone to carry the ball. Usually it's the secretary. We know a chap who does this job - does it quietly and well. We have him in mind for this week's Hashman award and Roxy Theatre pass winner.

Around the ball diamond he's usually referred to as "Pop", "The Skipper", or just plain Frank. Won't keep you in suspense any longer; we mean Frank Courtney.

The Skipper has a host of duties to look after. He's president of the Barrie and District Ladies Softball League, manager of the Newmarket Ladies Softball team, but where he really shines is as secretary. He handles these duties for Newmarket Spitfires Hockey Club, Miami Green and Newmarket Manufacturers Assoc. That's why we're saying on behalf of the softball and hockey players, thank you, Frank, for helping to keep the sport wheels churning in the Hub.

COUNCIL REPORT

Special Meeting Of Council Learns More Zoning By-Law As Solicitor Cross-Examines

A special meeting of the town council was held on Tuesday night, Oct. 23, when all members were present. Also present were Dr. Boulding, Dr. Henderson, Mr. S. W. Mills and Mr. K. Nisbet. The principal business for which the special meeting was called was to read and discuss the further seven pages of the zoning by-law which were not reached at the last meeting of council.

Prior to the presentation of the zoning by-law, council heard further representations from Drs. Henderson and Boulding in regard to the sewers on the westerly portion of Kennedy street west, requested by a few petitioners.

Deputy-reeve Murray, chairman of the streets committee, said that new figures supplied from the engineer's department stated that the cost of the sewers, not including Mrs. Sisman's property, would be $7,500. Inclusive of Mrs. Sisman's property, the cost would be $10,000.

Dr. Henderson said that they wanted their request for sewers pushed along, and efforts, he hoped, would be made by council to get the matter underway by November 1. He stated that the price given was a contract price.

Owing to Mrs. Sisman not having signed the original petiton, there had been some difficulty as regards the fixing of sewer costs. Councillor Davies said he would take the responsibility on himself of interviewing Mrs. Sisman. Council decided to await further reports.

"Here For Good"

Council then went into committee, under the chairmanship of councillor Gundy, for the purpose of further study of the zoning by-law, council being assisted in its explorations by town solicitor Lorne C. Lee.

At one point in the reading of the draft councillor Gundy remarked that the zoning by-law was largely hypothetical, providing a long-range picture, with councillor Davies interjecting that council had the power to "throw the whole thing out whenever it chose to do so."

The town solicitor immediately corrected councillor Davies' observation by making it clear that council had no such power once the by-law became law. "Once this by-law is passed, it is here for good," said Mr. Lee. "I hope so," rejoined Mr. Davies.

In an extended analysis of the powers that would be given the planning board once the zoning by-law was passed and became law, the town solicitor referred to difficulties council had experienced last year when they resolved to rescind the by-law they had passed. Council was then told that it had no power to rescind the by-law.

It was quite wrong to assume that council had any power to rescind the present proposed zoning by-law once council passed it, the town solicitor pointed out, and that was the reason why he was urging council to thoroughly understand what it was doing.

Mr. Lee instanced the pitfalls in the zoning by-law, giving one example where a landlord could not sell a lot without first of all getting the consent of the planning board. "This by-law is full of pitfalls," he said.

At the close of the reading of the draft, it was resolved that Mr. Lee be authorized, as per his own request, to consult with other municipalities in order to ascertain further appropriate information, and finally with the planning board and council.

Except for a few minutes, while the editor of the Aurora Banner and his photographer lined up members of council against the wall in order to have their picture taken, the zoning by-law was further discussed from 8.45 to 11.15 p.m. An extension of time to deal with other business was agreed on, but some of this extended time was given over to a renewal of planning board business introduced by councillor Gundy.

Other Business

Among other business transacted was a by-law establishing a Volunteer fire department, which was given three readings.

The deputy-reeve requested the approval of council on the purchase of gravel for Dunning and Royal avenues and Cameron street, and an amount of 500 yards was agreed on.

It was reported that over 30 assessment appeals were scheduled for hearing at the Court of Revision, which is to be held on October 29, commencing at 8 p.m.

Council adjourned at 12.30 a.m.

(Further review of the above meeting will appear in our "Council Sidelights" in our issue of November 1. Ed..

LEAVE IT LONG ENOUGH!

The attitude of the town council on a number of matters appears to be that if they are left long enough in abeyance the citizens will forget all about them. We are aware that public memory is often short-lived, and because of this knowledge it is our business constantly to refresh the memory of the public on things that matter.

We refresh that memory again on the matter of the Mayor's ban on the press, in relation to access to the file of council business. It is very significant, we suggest, that Aurora News Page is alone in its fight for the right of the citizens to be fully informed on council business. The Aurora Banner, in which Mayor Bell has never denied part proprietorship, has not piped one little tiny squeak of protest against the ban.

Strangely enough we had the feeling that the council would have been up in arms over Mayor Bell's dictatorial dismissal of the resolution it unanimously passed on July 24, 1950. But up to this date of writing the members of council, like the Aurora Banner, have not piped one little tiny squeak of protest against the ban.

Council has accepted a kick in the subordinate area of its administrative breeches without a whimper, and Mayor Bell, in the face of such docile submission to his positive methods of correction, has every right to feel an increased sense of totalitarian authority.

Nonetheless we confess to a feeling of surprise that such men as Councillors Corbett and Davies, who respectively moved and seconded the resolution that was passed unanimously, should be content to sit still under the crude brush-off that Mayor Bell has given them.

Councillor Davies certainly knows procedure. Why then has he sat silent all this time? Mayor Bell's single-handed repudiation of a council resolution that has been on the records since July 24, 1950, was not only legally indefensible; it was an insult not only to council as a whole but to the citizens also, who are being denied the full council news which is their right.

ELECTION INTEREST GROWS

The signs are increasing that this year's nomination meeting will be the largest and the liveliest in the municipal history of Aurora. So many things have happened in this year's council history, to irritate and perplex the citizens, that such signs of increased interest are in no way surprising.

Citizens will tolerate a good deal. But there are limits to tolerance, and we think we are correctly interpreting the collective mind of the majority of Aurora taxpayers when we say that the limit was reached quite a while ago.

Dismissal of an old town employee in the first month of the year, and various quittings that followed thereafter, have not been forgotten by the citizens, who are likely to demand explanations for such and other events that have happened in a somewhat mysterious atmosphere.

As for somewhat mysterious happenings, the sudden announcement of the buying up of the Aurora Banner set a lot of people thinking, especially in view of the fact that the new owners preserved a strict silence on their identities. Local readers like to know who owns their local newspaper. Such curiosity is natural and proper, since such known ownership provides something of a guide to readers.

Mayor Bell has never denied the current belief that he is a part-owner of the Aurora Banner; and it was Mayor Bell who gave instructions to the new town clerk that the editor of Aurora News Page was not to have access, as in the past, to the file of council business, thereby limiting the full amount of council news to which ratepayers are entitled.

Such events have naturally stimulated interest in local municipal affairs. We shall fully review this year's council record before nomination night, which is on November 30. We believe it will still further stimulate election interest.

A RIDICULOUS BY-LAW

On the evidence it can be shown that the town council has this year neglected items of business of great importance to Aurora. But it can always find time for proposed planning board legislation.

The zoning by-law now before council is a case in point. It is being hurried through although its contents have not been publicized so that property owners and other taxpayers could have an opportunity of learning what it is all about.

We have already written at some length elsewhere on this subject, and it only remains for us to reiterate that the by-law is so ambiguous in its language, and, as the town solicitor said, of such far-reaching importance to the future of this town, that we cannot understand the reasons why it is being rushed forward at such a speed.

Aurora's Holy Wall could be left over for a new council to deal with. Is the zoning by-law so urgently needed that it must be rushed through before a new council takes office? There is no need at all for such a by-law, which we can only describe as ridiculous. It is a safe bet that there is not a single member of council who understands it completely.

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING

"Stick Around For Supper" In A Ravine In Korea; Aurora Show Prize-Winners

Earl Stewart, owner of the North End Taxi, is very proud of the fact that two of his drivers, Albert John "Army" Armitage, and Melbourne Newton, were the first volunteers from Aurora to join up for service in the Korean war. Earl, himself a war veteran, has just received a very interesting news clipping which he has passed on to us, and from which we quote.

The news clipping was sent to Mr. Stewart by Keith Smith, son of the one and only Joe Smith, "Old Sweat" of world war I, and world war II, who has enough colorful life-material made up of many varied activities, to make a sizeable book.

Keith Smith, who belongs to the Princess Pats and has been in the front line since the start of the Korean war, is presently on his way home via Japan, and where, on his arrival, he is slated for an appropriate welcome. As the newspaper clipping received from Keith has no identity as to its original source, we are able only to acknowledge its authorship as belonging to the Canadian Press.

The Canadian Press writer starts thus: "Somewhere in Korea. From a steeply rising ravine between two ridges immediately behind a Canadian section of the UN defence line in Korea come thick fried steaks and fresh-baked apple pies."

And then he goes to say: "Private Albert John 'Army' Armitage, Aurora, Ontario, 39-year-old veteran of seven years' service in World War II, produces in his cook tent some of the tastiest food this side of home, according to machine-gunners on the hills around him."

"Army" Armitage has three helpers. They are privates "Clay" Murray and Sam Lemanne, both from Ottawa, and Ralph Driver of Montreal. With these three helpers, and a further three Korean houseboys, "Army" turns out more than 500 meals a day seven days a week. His equipment consists of two portable ovens.

Private Robert Taylor of Montreal, and of the Support Company of the Royal Canadian Regiment, had this to say of the food prepared by "Army" and his assistants: "When you figure the few helpers and the conditions around here, we really eat well. You wouldn't know this was the front line."

"Stick Around For Supper"

"Army" Armitage, who learned to become a cook towards the end of the last war, had this to say to the Canadian Press correspondent: "We get lots of good rations and can give them fresh hot meals all the time. The C-rations stay piled up just for emergencies."

The writer states that the four kitchen experts have dug a level floor in the side of the ravine under the larger part of the tent and have an "upstairs bedroom" at the smaller end.

The water is good and its condition certified by the regimental medical officer. It comes from a spring in the hillside.

"If these guys will stop eating for a minute I can get ahead. We're pretty well organized now. Why don't you stick around for supper. We're going to have fish and chips, Canadian style," the correspondent was told by "Army."

We are obliged to Earl Stewart for enabling us to bring the foregoing most interesting information concerning such three well-known Aurora boys to Aurora News Page.

Recreation Commission

Under the chairmanship of Don Glass a meeting of the Aurora recreation commission was held in the old town hall on Thursday night, Oct 18, when the following major business was transacted.

In view of the impending departure from Aurora of Mrs. Helen Dickson, secretary-treasurer of the commission, the finance committee was empowered to recommend a suitable successor for the two positions.

The commission expressed appreciation at the presence of Mr. Jack Eilbeck, district representative of the central Ontario division of the community programs branch, who made a purely informal call.

Resolutions and Reports

The commission resolved to dissolve the swimming pool committee which was nominated some time ago.

Councillor Cliff Corbett having agreed to do further voluntary work for the commission, in an effort to cut expenses, it was resolved to order materials for new equipment for playgrounds which Mr. Corbett will put in shape in his leisure time.

A high school photography group has been formed, as a memorial to the late Garnett Barrager, and Mr. R. Moddle will have charge of the group.

Reporting on the Saturday night dances, Mr. Les Steadman stated that these were going well. The handicraft and art classes were likewise doing well.

Travel Show Winners

The 15 thousandth person to see the Beatty Bros. Travel Show was, as good luck had it, an Aurora woman, Mrs. Lydia Bertch of 73 Catherine Avenue. It had been decided that a special prize should be awarded to the lucky 15 thousandth visitor, so Mrs. Bertch received a beautiful automatic toaster, the presentation being made by Mayor Bell in the presence of a considerable crowd gathered inside the Bowser emporium.

We know Mrs. Bertch as a lawn bowler, and still better as the mother of Lester Bertch, the creator and designer of the lovely ceramic ware, which is produced at 73 Catherine Ave. and is always greatly admired. Our congratulations to Mrs. Bertch on her good fortune. Our congratulations also to Ronnie Chapman, of C.F.R.B. sideroad, who drew the lucky ticket for the station wagon. This draw was made around 10 p.m., again in the Bowser store, and again the presentation was made by Mayor Bell.

Good Organization

The Travel Show was well organized. From two o'clock in the afternoon until the last draw was made, the Bowser store witnessed a procession of customers, a large number of whom came in from Newmarket and adjoining districts, as well as from town. Manager Sid Firminger of the Beatty Bros. Show asked us to express appreciation for the excellent arrangements made by the management and staff of the Bowser store, which he said were largely accountable for the day's success.

We are glad to put on record such appreciation of the management and staff of the Bowser store, for to our own knowledge both management and staff put in a lot of preliminary hard work to make the event the success that it proved to be.

Great credit is also due to the Aurora W.I. for the excellent arrangements made by its members for the comfort of the large number of out-of-town visitors to the show. The tea and biscuits provided by the W.I. were greatly appreciated.

Visits Detroit

Of course you won't always find Mr. Whitelaw in person at the store, since from time to time he is overtaken by an old nostalgic urge for travel. This is understandable as for many years he was constantly "on the road", representing the paper-firm he previously owned. His business journeys took him from coast to coast in Canada, and in many parts of Europe and the British Isles.

This old travel urge recurs and sends him off on little tours. He has just returned from a week's visit to Detroit, during which he had a sight of the boat carrying the Royal visitors, Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh. Detroit fired a 21-gun salute to honor the visitors across the river. In his absences, members of his capable staff take classifieds for the Era and Express. We have a thought, however, that "B.G." is now at the end of his tours for the year 1951, and will be settling down at least until the close of the Christmas season.

Congratulations

Mr. Charles Peterson has a birthday coming along in a few days, and here are our best wishes, and many more of them.

A little later still, on October 31, Mr. and Mrs. Peterson will celebrate the seventh anniversary of their wedding. Aurora News Page joins with their relatives and many friends in offering congratulations and a continuance of good fortune.

YOU WONDER. He doesn't seem so much smarter than other men. Maybe it's his "attitude"—his particular way of reacting to difficulties. He has a home and family that are his incentives. They back him up and he backs them up with financial security.

He is proud of his independence. Important in the maintenance of his successful business attitude are security contracts made through a business associate —a North American Life representative.

50TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

The above portrait of Dr. Alberta M. and Dr. William H. Cross was taken on the occasion of the 50th anniversary of their wedding, which was celebrated at Prince Arthur House, Toronto, in the presence of over 60 guests, some of whom were from Aurora.

Dr. Alberta Cross is the daughter of the former editor and proprietor of The Aurora Borealis, Albert F. Stevenson, and niece of the former editor of the Era and Express, Erastus Jackson.

Aurora Rotary Club Hears New U.N. Song

Ted McClenny of Aurora sang one of the first performances in the world of the song "We the People of the Nations" at the meeting of the Rotary Club of Aurora on Monday. This new song was composed by Geoffrey O'Hara especially for the celebration this week by Rotary International of the birth of the United Nations.

Mr. McClenny is a pupil of Ilyd Harris, a member of the Aurora club, and was roundly applauded by the gathering, which included a number of visitors from the inter-city committee of the Rotary Club of Toronto.

Judge Hawley Mott of the Toronto family court addressed the meeting and told of the problems encountered in his work, especially stressing the family aspect in cases involving juvenile delinquency.

"In each case," he said, "we have not only a youth problem, but a family problem." Mostly it is found that there is something missing in the family life, whic he said can only be built successfully upon a foundation of sacrifices by those involved.

From Our Window At Doane Hall

Sometimes we look up from our desk, or our typewriter, and gaze from the window in our office at Doan Hall. Looking south we can see the sign of the Ardill store; looking north our view commands the front of the Aurora dairies. Immediately over the street is the Queen's hotel. The Mid's Ladies' Store is to the left of our window.

Come to think of it, there is in the above paragraph an impressive short history of business in Aurora. Doan Hall is one of Aurora's historic homes, built by the man who gave the town its present name, and who was its first postmaster and first reeve. The name of Charles Doan is as permanent as the name Aurora.

The present owner of Doan Hall has been restoring his property over a period of two years, and has one of the most beautiful, as well as one of the most historic, homes in Aurora. There are 24 rooms in this spacious house.

The room which is our office is 16 feet long and 15 feet wide, with a ceiling from 14 to 15 feet high. An open fireplace indicates the type of this century-old building. The latter is, however, unnecessary now in this centrally-heated dwelling.

Historic Neighbors

Over the way the Ardill's department store is a historic neighbor. For there James Whimster had his general grocery store for over 60 years, and if anyone wants to know something about its history we recommend them to have a chat with Frank Teasdale of Aurora, or Burt Morrison, of the renowned Morrison's store at Newmarket. Both of them can give you little colorful stories of the late James Whimster's store, for Frank and Burt were once employees of the celebrated Aurora merchant. Mr. Ardill has had the department store for nearly 25 years.

Then there is the old Queen's hotel, for so many years in the possession of Mr. Archie Murray, and now managed by his son, Jim. There was a time when you could buy any kind of drink you fancied at the Queen's hotel, for Aurora was then "wet." Some 40 years ago a vote of the citizens was taken, under their local option rights, and a majority decided that Aurora must go "dry."

Then we can look across the street and see the Aurora Dairies premises, which are being so successfully operated by one of Aurora's younger business men, Mr. Doug. Harrison, who took over seven years ago. Across the street is Mid's Ladies' Wear, which we called attention to when this attractive store opened its doors about a year ago.

Passers-By

By our office window we can see a procession of passers-by. A few moments ago we spotted Dr. Mulligan on the opposite side of the street. Now there is a very interesting personality. The last time we talkd with the learned doctor of divinity he struck us a convincing blow on the chest to emphasize a quotation he had made from the poet Robert Burns.

In fact it is not the first time that the doctor has underlined a spiritual argument in similar muscular fashion when we have been talking with him. Dr. Mulligan is a man of strong convictions, and when he becomes charged with strong feelings he uses not only inspired words but inspired gestures also. In this way he may tap your chest; and a "tap" from Dr. Mulligan has something of a boxer's bite in it.

Having said that without malice, we would also like to add that he is a scholar of distinction. He has one of the best libraries in all of Canada; some 10,000 volumes we believe, ranging over almost every branch of literature. It would be hard to mention an author, especially in the classical category, who is unfamiliar to Dr. Mulligan's wide range of reading. Despite his burden of knowledge, he remains a merry soul, who enjoys a joke. We like him very much.

We thought of these things as he passed by our window. He was soon lost to sight, and others passed by.

Some of these others we knew very well, and we must put them in our gallery of silhouettes as occasion allows.

COUNCIL SIDELIGHTS

While Lee's Legal Callipers Measured The Zoning By-Law Council Reclined In Silence

At the council meeting on Monday, Oct. 15, which lasted for four and a quarter hours, the bulk of the time was taken up in listening to Councillor Gundy read eight pages of the typewritten ammended draft of the town planning board's zoning by-law, and the discussion which followed. We say "discussion" when it would be better to say comments by the town solicitor. For councillors themselves took hardly any part in it.

Copies of the amended draft were passed around the council table and to the press. There are 15 pages of typed material, running to about 530 lines. It would have been far more sensible to have asked members of council to take their copy home with them and study it, and see if they could make head or tail of the rambling complicated clauses.

What does the ordinary reader make of this, for example, on page 1, under "definitions." Quote: "In this by-law, unless a contrary intention appears, (1) 'ACCESSORY' when used to describe a use, or a building or structure means a use, or a building or structure that is naturally and normally incidental, subordinate and exclusively devoted to a principal use, building or structure and located on the same lot therewith."

There are reams of that sort of stuff, which looks like clotted nonsense. We don't remember Mayor Bell putting in a single word during the whole heavy reading, which presumably put Councillor Pringle into a perspiring condition, for he pulled off his coat and hung it on the door handle.

Glancing at Mr. Archie Cousins, member of the planning board, he seemed to us to have a far-away look on his face. It could be that he was thinking of his summer cottage and of the beautiful fish that swim around in Lake Simcoe.

Puzzle It Out!

Now here's another pretty one. Quote: "Building height shall mean the vertical distance measured from the mean finished grade along the front of the building to the highest point of the roof for flat roofs; to the mean level between eaves and ridge for gable and hip roofs; and to the deck line for mansard roofs."

Ask any ordinary chap you meet on Yonge street to define that one and see what answer you get! He'd probably ask you in return if you had bats in the belfry.

Ask him to explain this one. Quote: "PARKING LOT means a lot, having an approved surface properly drained and abutting on a highway or on surfaced driveway giving access to a highway, where motor vehicles are temporarily parked or stored as a permitted use, as an accessory use to a permissible use and located not more than 500 feet from such permissible use in the same or any adjoining district."

Those are samples taken at random from the amended draft of the zoning by-law proposed for Aurora. We could quote other samples that are not nearly so simple.

Regular tongue-twisters; hum-diggers that would make gargoyles clinging to church walls shake with laughter, or perhaps bring on ulcers in their weather-beaten bellies.

A Glass Of Milk For Bob

As Councillor Gundy read on and on, heaving up the tortured phrases, from the ten and a half inch typed pages, we felt more and more how we would have liked to go out and bring in a glass of milk for Bob, or a steaming cup of coffee from Stew's cafe.

Bob Gundy is a most likeable fellow, and we regretted the forensic punishment he had to take, a prisoner caught in the relentless snares of the zoning by-law (amended draft), with Solicitor Lee going strong on a cross-examination spree. Members of the planning board were there, but they took no share in staving off the town solicitor's skill in making the by-law's faults and failings stand out clear and bare.

Councillor Gundy was left to himself to defend the mountain of words styled zoning by-law. Dr. Boulding, chairman of the town planning board, browsed in unruffled meditation; Mr. Keith Nisbet, planning board member, uttered not one word; and as for Mr. Cousins, well, we still fancied his thoughts were far away, where the succulent, fat fish dart hither and yon in the sunlit stretches of Lake Simcoe.

Council In Repose

Mayor Bell was a study in immobility, with an occasional cigarette to comfort his voiceless endurance; Deputy-Reeve Murray moved not a single interrogative muscle; Councillor Davies, his chair tilted and his head supported by the wall of the council chamber, developed a more and more darkening facial expression; Councillor Jones, patient as Job, went on turning the pages of the typewritten draft, flicking a now-and-then cigarette in a seemingly impatient manner, possibly wishing the darned draft at the bottom of Lake Ontario; Councillor Corbett from time to time would clasp his forehead, as though to comfort an aching cerebrum; Councillor Pringle was as motionless as a picture on the wall, that seems to say "We'll All Come Smiling Through"; and by his side was Reeve Cook, a wistful look on his face, maybe thinking of summer and fields filled with beautiful ripe clover and good honey that soothes the nerves.

And all this time Bob Gundy was reading on, heaving up the tortured phrases, from the ten and a half inch typewritten pages, with Solicitor Lee on the opposite side of the table, his legal callipers ready and waiting to measure up the paragraphs. It was as easy for Mr. Lee to pick holes in the zoning by-law as it is for robins to find worms on a wet day.

Sometimes Mr. Gundy, puzzled and discomforted by the application of Mr. Lee's legal callipers, would gaze wistfully towards the silent members of the planning board and ask for help. In such instances the planning board's consultant would rise. Usually it was to say that "Mr. Lee had a point there."

It seems a pity that Mr. Lee was not assigned the job of drafting the zoning by-law. But of course that would never do! Such a by-law has to be drafted at Queen's Park, or is it Ottawa? Nobody knows who drew the draft, or if they did they didn't say so. The by-law just came in. And one thing is certain. If it stays in there's going to be trouble in plenty for Aurora's future.

It was now 11 o'clock and the regular business of council hadn't even been touched. So, at a signal from the mayor, the zoning by-law was put away for another day. Members of council stirred again. The old familiar routine: correspondence, reports. For some two hours, more or less, Bob Gundy had been reading on, except for the periods during which Solicitor Lee cut in with his deadly callipers.

Councillor Gundy never did get his glass of milk; not even a little "Coke." However, he'd only reached page 8 as the clock struck eleven.

And after all that time, where had we gotten with the amended by-law? Simply nowhere! We don't think that a single member of council knew a thing about it. For that we don't blame them. The amended zoning by-law represents such a morass of interlaced clauses that you get sunk knee-deep in it.

As we tried with stubborn insistence to keep an eye on the layer upon layer of tangled words, we suddenly recalled what an American reviewer wrote of a book written by Thomas Carlyle, entitled "Sartor Resartus". The reviewer said it looked "like a heap of clotted nonsense. You could start at the beginning, or the end of a sentence, reading backwards or forwards, or even begin in the middle of a sentence, working your way either to the right or the left of the printed page, and the result was the same. It was a heap of clotted nonsense."

That is what we think of the planning board's zoning by-law for the town of Aurora.

The Story Of SHARON

By
ETHEL WILLSON TREWHELLA

This is the twentieth instalment of a continuing "Story of Sharon" from its founding to the present. The story was written after almost two years of research and will, we believe, be a major contribution to knowledge of the past. The remaining instalments will follow weekly.

The Temperance Movement

With this began a drastic social revolution. This Order of the Sons of Temperance was the first to advocate prohibition of the liquor traffic through constitutional amendent. The signers of the pledge promised total abstinence: that "We, the undersigned, do agree that we will not use intoxicating liquors as a beverage, nor traffic in them; that we will not provide them as an article of entertainment, nor for persons in our employment, and that in all suitable ways we will discountenance their use throughout the community."

The growing antipathy towards intemperance increased the sympathy to the temperance movement, and it spread rapidly across the land—the temperance lodges became the largest social interest. All shades of religious adherents supported them by influence, work and money. The constitution provided for officers and committees and .Saturday night was chosen on which to hold their meetings. The business session was intelligently conducted and each member was expected to give an account of his temperance activities since the last gathering. Then followed that part on the agenda, the "Good of the Order", to which all looked forward. Each member of whatever talent was called to contribute—old songs were sung, the local elocutionist gripped the listeners in dramatic climax, the wit of the lodge convulsed the company by his humor. Frequently an interchange of visits was arranged between lodges and a bounteous supper waited, while from cross-road and concession they came and the evils of alcohol were warmly debated.

It was not long until the movement reached Sharon. In the County Registry Office is the "Indenture of Lease, bearing date, May 1st, 1852, between Edward Brammer, blacksmith, and John Terry, Israel Haines and Moses Knight, trustees of Sharon Division, Sons of Temperance, No. 222", and setting forth "that part of lot No. 11, in the 3rd concession of East Gwillimbury, now occupied by a temperance hall now in process of erection—for as long as and during the time and for the time that the said piece or parcel of land and premises shall be occupied, used and reserved for a temperance hall or temperance purposes, provided always and nevertheless that it is in the true interest and meanings of these presents."

Sharon Lodge

A strong Temperance Lodge was built up in Sharon and a splendid crusade was carried on. The Silver Star brass band was formed and as the Children of Peace declined the Temperance Lodge became the centre of social interest. Some few account have been preserved illustrative of the activities. In July, 1855, it was announced that "the Temperance Lodge would hold a grand festival in Sharon; tea would be served at one o'clock. The brass band would be in attendance and Rev. W. Ormiston and others would address the gathering. Joseph Brammer, recording scribe." On the 4th of July, 1857, a very large temperance rally took place at Mount Albert and John Terry of Sharon was the principal speaker. Such a crowd gathered that the eatables were exhausted so the neighbors came to the rescue with an abundance of homemade bread and butter.

New Yeor's day, 1858, witnessed another large temperance gathering in Sharon. The proceeds of this were for the support of the gospel. In May of 1860 Sharon held a picnic at Eastville. In June, 1864, Newmarket and Sharon lodges combined in a meeting which was attended by an unusually large crowd. Temperance activities were at their peak about that time and frequent mention has been noted. Their strength was becoming a power, and laws were being enacted. From 1870 to 1875 Caleb Briggs of Sharon served as inspector of liquor licenses. In 1871 it was decreed that to procure a license to sell liquor application must be made by petition and all public houses must be examined by inspector.

At a very successful social held in 1874 the officers installed for Sharon Lodge were: W. H. Rowen, W.P.; A. J. Hughes, W. A.; Wm. Dodds, R.S.; Wm. Rowland, A.R.S.; R. Morris, F.S.; E. Brammer, T.; T. Morris, C.; S. Proctor, A.C.; T. Molloy, T.S.; G. Fogg, O.S.; R. R. Jamison, chaplain; John Robertson, P.W.P.

In 1875 the Sharon division held a concert in the temperance hall. The admission was 25c and the money was used for the improvement of the hall.

Re-organization

The Sons of Temperance were re-organized in 1885. Amos J. Hughes was appointed to the office of worthy patriarch and W. H. Rowen to that of recording scribe.

On the 30th of September, 1882, Robert Brammer sold to Ira Bruels the land on which the hall was situated and subject to this lease made in 1852. In 1892 a difference arose between the owner, Ira Bruels, and the trustess as to whether the terms of the lease had been violated. Finally both parties agreed to a settlement by arbitration and a document, dated Dec. 28, 1892, set forth the decision which upheld the trustees in their contention that the use of the hall had always been for temperance purposes and all funds accruing had been placed for the same purpose.

The document was signed by a judge but the writing makes it impossible to decipher the name.

In the spring of 1888 the Rescue Duet Singers arrived at Sharon and held forth for three evenings in the Methodist church. The result was the organization of a lodge of Royal Templars of Temperance. Their officers were: select councillor, Rev. F. G. Parish; vice councillor, Agnes Doan; past councillor, J. Strasler; chaplain, Libbie Kavanagh; rec. sec., Emma Doan; fin. sec., Mina Bellar; treas., Ada Dennis; herald, M. Kitely; guard, C. Doan; sentinel, E. Strasler; D. Herald, J. Thirsk; ass. sec., Ida Proctor.

There were 56 members and they expected 100 before the charter would be closed.

Telegram Interview

Years ago the Toronto Telegram published an account of an interview with "Big Tom" Robinson of this band. Looking at the old photograph of the band: "Well, well! It's the old Sharon band. Ah! Those were the good old times when we were all young and happy together and used to meet and rouse the whole neighborhood away up Yonge Street with our music. I don't remember just when it was started but it was about the time of the American Civil War in 1861.

"There was a Davidite band which used to play in the Temple. We bought our own instruments and met every Wednesday night in the lodge hall, and on Saturday night we went early and had a bit of practice before the regular lodge meeting began. After about a year we procured uniforms. We had black trousers with a red stripe down the side. Our coats were blue and had brass buttons and our hats were just the same as the American soldiers.

"Frequently we were asked to play for excursions on the old 'Emily May' which ran between Barrie and Bradford on Lake Simcoe. For Sunday school picnics we gave our services but for excursions we received as much as a dollar apiece for playing.

"Our pieces were all medleys, mostly American tunes, too,such as Yankee Doodle, Dixie, Marching Through Georgia and Swanee River. Shoo Fly was another. The words were rather foolish but they struck the public's fancy. One verse ran:

'I feel, I feel, I feel,
I feel like a morning star;
I feel, I feel I feel,
I feel like a bad cigar.'

And then the chorus:

'Shoo fly, don't bother me,
Shoo fly, don't bother me,
Shoo fly, don't bother me,
For I belong to Compang G.'

"Another pretty one we played was The Lone Starry Hours, and the Mocking Bird. That was always a favorite. But of course we ended each concert with God Save the Queen."

Fenian Raid

"Our band came to a halt about 1866 and never regained its full strength. We can all be called veterans of the Fenian Raid. We stayed a day and a night in 'barracks' at Sharon and then marched bravely down to Newmarket to be told we were not needed as the Fenians had been finished. However, we went over and saw the armed patrol boat, 'Heron', which came up from Montreal and patrolled Lake Ontario.

"Most of us went to California. Dan Doan and George Brammer died there. Orne Kitely is still in California. We were all about 20 when that picture was taken. My brother, John, is farming up Dunnville way, Tom Doan is farming at Queensville. Jim Doan, Ed. Brammer and John Kester are dead.

"None of us did anything we should be ashamed of, in fact most of them are a credit to Sharon. William Robinson, my brother, won the most fame. He went to Italy to study music. He came back to Toronto and was a well-known singer in Canada and the United States. He went by the name of Pierre Delasco. In Toronto he lived on the old Bickford estate, back of Trinity College."

JACK SMITH WRITES

Ottawa Letter

A weekly letter from the member of parliament for York North.

The visit of Their Royal Highnesses, the Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh, has dominated the Canadian scene in recent weeks, and the unqualified success of the tour is a matter of great satisfaction here and to all who were responsible for making the trip possible.

The Princess and the Duke have been just wonderful and the enthusiasm and sincerity of the Canadian welcome has deeply impressed the Royal couple and the world.

The importance of the successful tour cannot be over-estimated. Demonstrating our loyalty to the Crown and the fundamentals of our democracy, it has quickened our national spirit, inspired greater pride in our national greatness and told the world in no uncertain terms that we prize highly our ties with Britain and the Commonwealth.

In these days of anxiety in the realm of international affairs such convincing demonstrations by our people are encouraging. We should have more of them. Your government is very happy and proud to have had the privilege of arranging the Royal tour in Canada of our future Queen and her husband.

Sessional Program

The second session of parliament this year was called primarily to pass legislation to provide increased security for our older citizens through payment of pensions, without a means test and as a matter of right, to all Canadians over the age of 70, and establish a fund made up of special contributions for that purpose.

Registration of all persons 70 years of age and over has been successfully undertaken and administrative preparations have been well advanced to provide prompt payment from January 1952 to all eligible persons. In the first year it is estimated this will benefit 700,000 Canadians. This legislation follows that of last session which provided for pensions to persons between the ages of 65 and 70.

The international situation gives grave concern to all, and our national effort to provide security for our people continues to take top priority in all legislative and administrative business. The North Atlantic Nations are steadily increasing their combined strength in a determined effort to maintain peace. The measure of Canada's contribution to this combined effort is a matter which will have consideration of parliament at this session.

The concern of all our people over the high cost of living, resulting from international and domestic inflationary pressures, is fully shared by the government and all members of parliament.

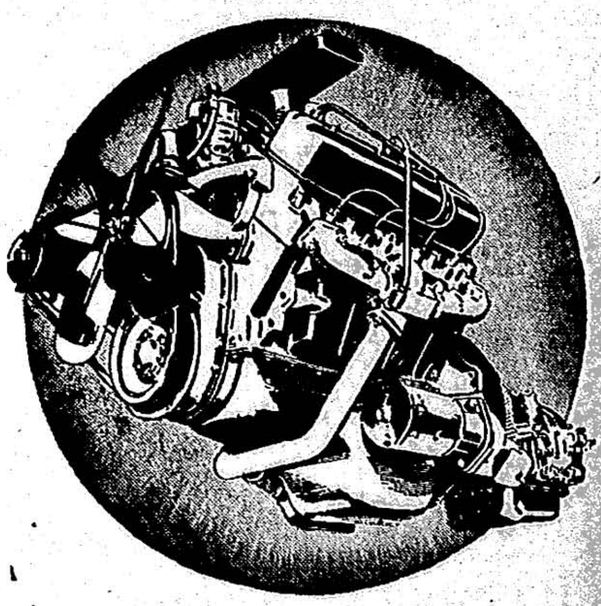

The matter is receiving constant consideration and the government will not hesitate to take any steps which are effective and in the best interest of the people. The government will not institute controls, just for the sake of having controls, even though such a step might relieve the pressure from groups which clamor for some kind of control over prices. If it is felt that controls will help the situation the government will not hesitate to bring in the necessary regulations, as it did during war years.

A major national project under active consideration is the development of both the seaway and power phases of the St. Lawrence River development. The government is in earnest on this matter and it is now well assured that the great seaway in the not too far distant future will be a reality and a great boon to central Ontario and all Canada.

Adjustments in basic pensions for veterans and their dependants will receive attention early this session. I have received many representations on the matter and wish to assure all who have expressed concern that I am satisfied the necessary revision will have the sympathetic consideration of the government and that increases will be made which will meet with general approval.

During the next eight or nine weeks I will be in Ottawa and I hope constituents will feel free to write me on any matter of local or national concern. If I can be of any assistance to anyone in the riding of North York it will continue to be a pleasure and privilege. My address here is J. E. SMITH, M.P., Parliament Buildings, Ottawa, and no postage is required on letters.

Pages from the Editor's Notebook

Conrad Hauser from up Sharon way has the pleasant habit of dropping off at the office back copies of English magazines. He does it for a purpose which we duly record here. He's interested in organic fertilization and the back copies of the magazine generally have stories and articles marked for our attention.

Well, we're at one with Mr. Hauser in this score. We don't believe there is the understanding of the uses of fertilizer that there should be. But some other day, we'll concern ourselves about it. For the moment, we would rather browse through the magazines, sampling their contents and enjoying what to us is an unique experience.

The magazines are copies of The Field "The Country Newspaper", published every Saturday. But the title is a little misleading. The "Country Newspaper" more resembles the slick magazines of North America with lovely color photographs on the cover and profusely illustrated inside pages.

The forepart of the magazines is devoted to advertisements of farms and estates for sale. The advertisements are for the most part accompanied by photographs of stately old homes and rolling fields and parks. They offer such additional inducements to the prospective purchasers as "excellent salmon and sea trout fishing" or a "fine tithe barn fitted for dancing and with cocktail bar."

Then follows pages of general advertising, crowded on full pages after the English custom as different from ours of sharing the advertising pages with reading matter.

The index of contents offers a wide choice for what we would suppose to be an essentially rural audience. One issue leads off with an article about Sport on State Land, followed by a page of comment and a full page photo of a trainer and amateur rider. The next article was on Professional Hunting in Africa. The National Steeplechase was given a page, followed by photographs of a goshawk in flight.

A report of a Hunter Stallion Show faced an article on fishing in Ireland. The next page over contained the advantages of fishing at bridges and the history of the Ayrshire breed. Then there was a miscellany of sports stories, motor tours, and beating on the moors.

The pages of letters to the editor were a treat. Profusely illustrated, they discussed all manner of subjects, from the influence of certain sires on racing in America to salmon fishing in Spain and historical relics.

The tail end of the magazine was devoted to women's styles and in type and lay-out, rivaled the best of women's magazines. Then more advertisements to fill out 40 pages or so.

• • •

What impressed us so about these magazines was the catholic taste. Some of the material might have appeared in the Family Herald or the Advocate. Other articles would have seemed more at home in the sophisticated journals of North America. The letters to the editor, as remarked, were a real pleasure for the scope allowed in discussion on a myriad of matters.

We fear, though, that we have unintentionally suggested that these magazines were for the gentlemen farmer types and had no place under a thatched roof. Not so, as the correspondence shows. The contents of the magazine seemed intended to enlarge a countryman's horizon as well as to inform him, and the ability with which this purpose was carried out made them a pleasure to read.

We know of no parallel in North America to this type of reading although there are several, we understand, similar journals in the U.K. It is a shame because their excellence in content and appearance would make them pleasant reading for all with an acre or two or more at their front door.

From the Files of 25 and 50 Years Ago

OCTOBER 22, 1926

There are many people who think October is the finest month in all the year, and will enjoy to the limit the glorious golden days. There is a rare beauty in the brown October with its flaming woods and its frosty air.

Keswick: The menu for the United church supper next Monday night is as follows: roast goose, creamed potatoes, jellies, pickles, apple sauce, beet and cabbage salad, pies and cakes of every variety, tea and coffee. The supper will be followed by a fine program.

Baldwin Corners: The members of the Pine Plaza Hunt Club called on the postmaster one evening last week and spent a jolly evening. The leaves are beginning to fall so the hunters like to get together.

The girls of the I.C.B.D. club of the Office Specialty Co. intend holding a Hallowe'en At Home on Friday evening, Oct. 29.

Holt: Little Marion Gibney played a joke on her father, Milton Gibney, by climbing in the cream truck unnoticed and hanging to the cans went from Holt to Mount Albert creamery. Luckily she was not hurt.

Vandorf: The C.N.R. section men had a midnight call on Thursday night to go to Pine Orchard and help transfer 28 head of cattle from a broken down car to a safe one.

OCTOBER 25, 1901

Toronto Letter: On Saturday night one of the lynxes in the Riverdale Park zoo escaped from its cage by squeezing its way between the bars. It was secured next morning, but during the night it killed a number of birds in the enclosure, including a sand hill crane and a Chinese goose and gander.

Mr. Alexander Muir, author of the popular patriotic song, "The Maple Leaf," will attend the anniversary ceremonies of the Wentworth Historical Society at Hamilton on Saturday afternoon next, on which occasion he has been invited to plant a maple tree near the site where the government monument will be placed.

At the Barrie market on Thursday of last week 1380 boxes of cheese were offered, including 180 from Newmarket factory.

Don't miss the harvest home supper next Tuesday evening in the Methodist church. The usual fee of 25c admits to both supper and lecture—that is you pay for your supper and the entertainment is thrown in.

Get your vegetables in. Next Thursday is All Hallow's eve.

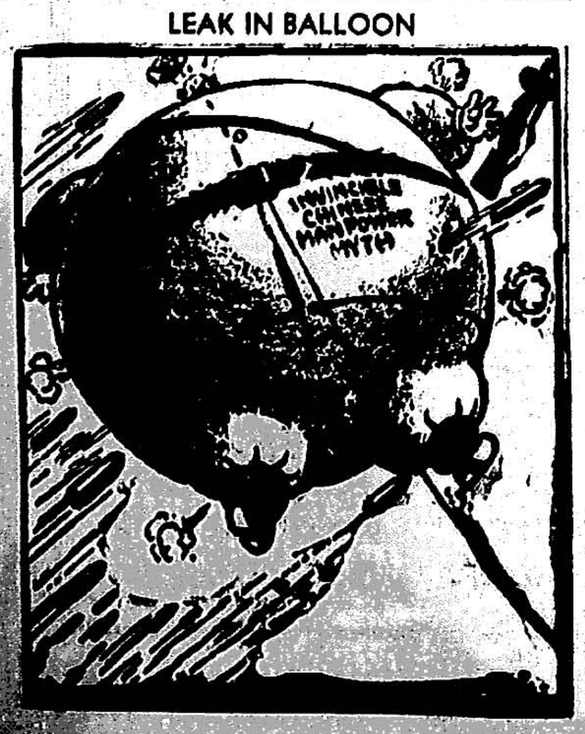

Two inches of snow in North Gwillimbury last Friday morning was reported by farmers coming into town.

Schomberg is getting the railroad all right. It would have been a pity if they had been disappointed. No doubt they will soon have electric lights and all other city conveniences.

Baldwin: John Miller's potato crop was something wonderful but unfortunately fully one-third are rotten. That's the report of many others around here.

The dust was awful down town last Saturday morning.

LEAK IN BALLOON

CROSSING HAZARDS

Some weeks ago, the Township of Whitchurch Federation of Agriculture forwarded to council a resolution urging that some action be taken to end the numerous hazards at railway crossings in the township. The resolution was forwarded to the board of transport commissioners and there, it apparently died for there has been no suggestion that any action has been taken.

A couple of weeks ago, a gravel truck was hit by a C.N.R. train near Cedar Valley. The driver had a miraculous escape from death. The crossing is hazardous with high banks limiting the view of the tracks. This is another of a series of such accidents. It would seem that the Federation's forebodings are not without justification.

We fail to understand why there should be such apparent irresponsibility towards such matters as hazardous crossings. The crossing at which this most recent accident occurred is not the worst by any means. The C.N.R. crossing south of Newmarket is another example. There are many more. The accidents that have occurred are surely sufficient reason to order the crossings made safer.

For years, the bridge at Vandorf has been a hazard to cars on the third concession. It took a considerable and prolonged struggle to have work started on widening that subway. Is it necessary to go through such trials every time a hazard must be removed?

The railways can never hope to enjoy public confidence when so little thought is apparently given to the removal of these hazards.

CIVIL DEFENCE COSTS

Civil defence organization in the municipalities moves far too slowly to offer any assurance that we will be ready if the need arises. The big stumbling block is the federal government's apparent unwillingness to accept the financial responsibility for a civil defence program. Surely there is no question that it is the federal government's responsibility, at least in the formative stage?

No program can be effective unless co-ordinated on the same high level of efficiency and if each municipality were left to finance their own program there would be no consistency at all. What municipality, when faced with a heavy tax rate as most of them are today, would add a mill or two for civil defence or attempt to reduce spending on more immediate issues as schools and roads in favor of civil defence?

But quite apart from these political facts of life is the fact that municipalities are running close to their maximum of taxation. The federal and provincial governments have skimmed the cream of the tax supply; what is left is barely enough to carry the municipalities. The federal and provincial governments both have surpluses; the municipal governments are more often in the red than black.

Finally, defense spending will vary from one municipality to another, although adequate civil defence is a concern of everyone. Is it fair to saddle the municipalities in the target areas with civil defence costs while the more outlying municipalities pay nothing?

We can see no acceptable argument against civil defence costs being borne by municipalities. Every consideration points to federal financing. There is now a willingness to acknowledge the need for civil defence and there are many prepared to volunteer for the work. What excuse is there for further delay?

CORRUPTION IN GOVERNMENT

A United States Senate sub-committee has issued a report on the ethics and moral standards in the running of the national government. The report had considerable impact because of its bluntness and its disclosures of corruption and graft It has interest here because of its emphasis upon the elementary truth that there would be little, if any, corruption in government if the public itself pursued an ethical course.

The report says: "No group in society is in a position to point the finger of scorn at others. Influence pedlars can exist only as long as businessmen and others are willing to patronize them. Favoritism can be a problem only when the individual men and women seek favors of the government. Gifts, improper pressure and bribes come from outside the government, from individuals, from organizations, and from groups which are part of what we call the public."

The argument might be put this way: That no nation gets a better, or worse, government than it is entitled to. We sometimes point the finger of scorn at our neighbors while patting ourselves on the back for the excellence of our own institutions. It is a mistake. We are fooling ourselves. This same blind acceptance of our own virtue is enough to end virtue and encourage fault.

Let us never forget that our governments are only as good as we are individually. We have our pedlars of favoritism, our fixers, just as in the United States. Let them wither on the vine; remember, it is the public that keeps them alive.

MILK MARKET AGENCY

Milk producers in this area, in company with producers throughout Ontario, will vote on the formation of a milk marketing agency as provided for by amendments to the Milk Control Act in 1950. The producers will be asked to return their ballots to the Milk Control Board within the period of Oct. 29 and Nov. 10.

If the producers vote to set up a milk marketing scheme, it will represent a major change in policy. They have been a voluntary organization with many of the organization's powers dependent upon the goodwill of the distributors. To a very large degree, the individual producer dealt with his dairy in his own way. The organization has avoided any move that was compulsory, apart from the usual honoring of contracts or observing health or sanitary laws.

If an agency is established, however, the voluntary organization will be replaced by the discipline of a licensing organization. The producer will no longer deal with dairy but only with his producers' agency. He'll lose what freedom of choice of market he now has in favor of the agency's decision. In effect, his position will be similar to a member of a union in industry.

We think that two or three years ago, once this fact was fully realized, the producers would turn down such a proposition in favor of the more hazardous, but certainly freer, methods of marketing milk. Such has been the disillusionment of bad bargains, political meddling, and the pressure which can be exerted by organized labor in those past three years that the producer now will choose the discipline of an agency for the advantages it provides.

In a word, the producer now feels that the only way he can protect himself in the future will be by making his own organization stronger, even though it may lessen his individual freedom.

But regardless of these considerations, one question should be settled to the producer's satisfaction before he votes: Will the agency market more milk for him? Biggest factor in the sale of milk is the price to the consumer. Heaviest contribution to cost is the inefficiency of handling milk. Can an agency correct this inefficiency or will it be simply put in the position where it must continue to do business with the distributors under the same old argument of: "charge us too much for our milk and we'll sell less and you'll suffer with us."

An agency will give the producers a more effective bargaining position but will it help sell more milk at a better price?

WATER CONTROL

A good many of the homes being built in North York must depend upon springs or wells for their water supply. The amount of building raises the question of how long these water supplies will last. Underground water is not a limitless resource.

The Don and Humber Valley conservation authorities, and now, the Holland River Conservation Authority, will lead the way to the "conserving" of water resources but will these authorities be able to maintain and increase water resources in keeping with the demand made upon them by the rate of growth in the North York area. We strongly doubt it.

As it is now, anyone can dig a well on his property. Dig enough wells and soon all wells are losing their levels. It would seem there is need for some sort of water control. Certainly, if there were, farmers in western Ontario where large cities are draining farm wells, or even, closer to home, would have a case to bring before it.

Proper methods of conservation can increase water resources or at the least, maintain them. But even the biggest puddle will go dry if too many drink from it. A water control board would prevent that over-demand.

EDITORIAL NOTE

When the hydro broke down in Newmarket on Saturday, a businessman, to whom information on the extent of the breakdown was important, tried to get the emergency number for several minutes without success. The line was busy... Had there been a fire, he points out, a building could be lost in that interval. It would seem only common sense that there be two or more phones for emergencies.

Office Cat Reports Catnips By Ginger

"A day with the children," says Slim Bliggens, "does somethin' to you. As fer me, I've got the shakes somewhat fierce."

No one can ever say that Slim is not a kind and gentle soul, not Bliggens the noble, Bliggens, always the knight in shining armor. He volunteered to help out the widow Alice N. Vainiette who has 10 kids. He minded them all day Saturday.

"Why didn't you phone me up. I'd have gone over and given you moral support," I told Slim.

"Moral less," replied Bliggens.

"I have a way with children," I said.

"You'd have done away with them if youse was me," said Slim. "Why them little urchins doesn't drive the widder Alice N. Vainiette mad. I dunno. I figgered I'd use psychology and tell 'em a few stories to keep them outa mischief, see?

"Once't upon a time, I sez. . . . Once't upon a time there was this here great big steel tycoon who invested his money badly. That's fine for a start but up pops this one Vainiette and says, 'How can a 'coon invest when he can't even talk. A 'coon is just a wild animal, anybody knows that.'

"Well, this here 'coon was a ty-'coon and he was different, I sez. So that was that. Anyways, this here tycoon gets into deeper and deeper water so he has to issue some bogus stock to get funds. Right then another Vainiette pops up and says that a 'coon can swim if he wants to , no matter how deep the water was and that he didn't have to make an issue with the bogey-man to have some fun.

"I tell you them young Vainiette kids is too intellectual fer their own good."

"So what happened," I asked.

"Yer darn right it did," said Slim.

"What happened next," I bellowed.

"Well, the oldest Vainiette kid got into a sort of academic argument with me. He said that that was one fault of the capitalistic system, the fact that tycoons was allowed to issue bogus stock. Said the public was subjected too much to such vested pocket interests."

"And did he convert you to his side?"

"Naw, I told him that he was nothin' but one of them there ivory towered socialists and that when his mother came home, I was going to advise her that she tan his bottom proper. That's the only thing you can do with these young idyllists."

"Idealists."

"It sure is."

"That's not the proper way to approach young thinkers on a discussion about economic theories," I said.

"Well, I told him that if he had his way, there'd be no chance at free enterprise and initiative and that there'd be no more bums in the world like me cause we'd have to work. Then where would the world be?"

"That, right there, is the only argument you've given yet which has any foundation to it. It's the best one you've got," I said.

"The trouble with kids these days," said Slim, "is that they think they know too much."

"Well, don't they"

"Don't they what?"

"Know too much."

"Yep, they do."

by "Dairy Farmer" The Top Six Inches

Our usually well informed friend tells us that at a nomination in one of the local ridings, one of the aspirants for the job of provincial premier said, among other things, that when he is elected he will put the agricultural representatives to work.

We realize that to argue with political aspirants is like arguing with a cow bulling. They won't listen to reason either. But we would like to recommend to this gentlemen, that when the dust has settled and the votes are counted and he is NOT elected, that he should read these lines.

Maybe then he will realize that of all the civil servants, the Ag. Reps. are the hardest working lot. They are so busy that they have neither time nor energy to spell, write or pronounce Agricultural Representative.

We have known them for a number of years. Their patience is that of an eastern philosopher and they will listen to anybody's story and grief, may it be some farmer who is trying to explain the advantages of planting by the lunar calendar or some person wanting to sell something. Their time is always at our disposal, whether you want advice, or whether you think that the Ag. Rep. needs some. They can organize fall fairs and seed shows and plowing matches and do any of them well. They are unpaid secretaries of more associations than dog has fleas and they do most of the work in all of them. They have written and read more minutes of more meetings than most of us could attend in a lifetime.

They drive more miles over bad roads, in inclement weather than a veterinarian and they are home less than any other men we know. When we go to an evening meeting, they are there as a matter of duty, while we attend for our own advantage and pleasure.

Their assistants, or should we call them apprentices, go through a pretty tough training to fit them for this job. They work with the junior farmer and with the calf, swine, tractor, garden and reforestation clubs. There are several of each in a county. And all of the work is done at night. They train judging teams and they are a credit to the community.

They are always there when they are wanted and all of them, Ag. Rep. and assistant, are imbued by this feeling of service. They are civil servants in the best sense of the word and agriculture in this country wouldn't be what it is had it not been for the hard working Ag. Rep. and his helper.

They do all this for what would be called in private business a pittance but when they get to the end of the day they know that there is another one coming just like it tomorrow and they have done their job and done it well.

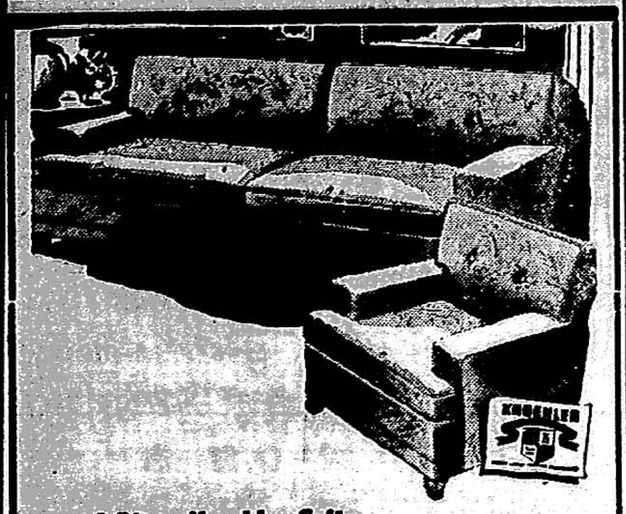

They have forgotten more than the aspirant in question has ever learned or will learn and can answer questions put to them by the fruit grower, the grain grower, and the livestock men. They keep a level head when the purebred men rave about bloodlines, knowing fully well the value of fads and where the majority of farmers make their money. They are independent in their opinion and their beliefs knowing that the only thing that matters to the community is the thing that will benefit all or most of them.

They test milk for butter fat and have time left to explain how it is done. They will sell you inoculant for your seed and screen for your fan-mill because private stores won't carry it — there isn't enough money in it.

They are everybody's friend and they are respected by all, no matter what their political beliefs are. They are a credit to their profession and they are civil servants in the highest and noblest sense of the word.

No, Mister Aspirant for the high honor of premiership, you cannot think of anything they haven't done for us. All they need is more recognition, more credit for work done, and more pay.

Iron Fireman's bowl-shaped flame covers the hearth and ripples heat instantly to every inch of primary heating surface. Saves up to one gallon of oil out of every three.

Ordinary gun-type burners release heat in the ashpit where it cannot be absorbed as effectively. Results in uneven heat . . . high fuel bills.

Iron Fireman's VORTEX flame is the reason

No other oil burner has this fuel-saving flame. Iron Fireman's whirling Vortex flame starts above the grate line, covering the hearth and blanketing the sidewalls of the furnace. The rich radiant heat circulates through your home instead of going up the chimney. . . Saves up to 30% on fuel bills.

And what wonderful head-to-toe comfort you enjoy. Reduces stratified cold air along the floors—you get steady, even heat quickly.

W.A. HEAR ACCOUNT OF LIVING IN U.K.

The October meeting of the W.A. of Trinity United church, Newmarket, was held in the school room with Mrs. M. B. Seldon presiding.

Rev. M. J. Aiken conducted the devotional period. The theme of his message was, "Thanksgiving". Mr. Aiken reminded the group to be thankful for the many blessings so abundantly bestowed upon them.

Following the business session Mrs. Seldon, who has recently returned from a visit with her son and his family in England, gave an account of conditions over there which enabled the group to see more clearly the everyday life of the English people.

A cordial invitation is extended to all the ladies of the congregation to attend these meetings of the Women's association. The W.A. meets the first Thursday of each month at 2.45 p.m.

ST. ANDREW'S W.A. PLAN FOR BUSY FALL

The Women's association of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Newmarket, met on Tuesday, Oct. 16, at the home of Mrs. John Hodge. Mrs. Joseph Greer presided. The meeting was well attended.

The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. W. G. Rosamond and Mrs. Lyle Bond. Mrs. Neil Faris, Yonge St., invited the group to her home for the next meeting.

Final arrangements were made for catering for dinner on Tuesday, Oct. 23, for the Vaughan-King ploughing match. Committees were formed for the annual St. Andrew's Day tea and bazaar which the group will hold in the Sunday school room on Friday, Nov. 30. Mrs. Leonard Little is general convener.

At the close of the business session, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. A social hour was spent.

REV. J. T. RHODES TALK ON STUDY BOOK

Rev. J. T. Rhodes gave an interesting talk on the work of the missions in South America at the October business meeting of the Evening auxiliary, W.A., St. Paul's Anglican church, Newmarket. In his talk on the study book, Mr. Rhodes told of the history of many of the South American peoples.

The meeting was held at the rectory. Mrs. Bert Budd presided and conducted the devotional period.

Following the study period, plans were completed for the auxiliary's booth at the coming community bazaar. The group will have a sale of home baking and candy. Aprons, knitted children's wear and dressed dolls will be features of their booth.

FEELING SEEDY?

How often do you feel so sluggish and headachy that you just long for the day to be over? You know those days. You feel tenth-rate from the time you wake up in the morning. Every hour seems like two.

Quite possibly you are suffering unnecessarily. If ordinary constipation and sluggish kidneys are preventing proper waste elimination your system is slowly being poisoned. That's what usually makes you feel all dragged-out.

Kruschen Salts are the answer. Because they offer the same benefits as several famous Mineral Springs, Kruschen Salts are a valuable aid because they act two ways—laxative and diuretic. Kruschen is a gentle yet effective laxative and also stimulates healthy kidney action.

Buy a package today. You'll be repayed a hundred times over in relief from the misery of a sluggish system.

COMMUNITY DOINGS

On Tuesday of last week, Oct. 16 to be exact, two very interesting events took place. In the afternoon, Bogarttown W.I. entertained her sister institute of Sharon — at least we gave them tea and its accompaniments, but they did the entertaining.

It was real Institute weather—the air soft as the velvet of summer, successfully hiding the claws of winter lurking beneath. The scarlet and gold banners of autumn were broken out by the breeze against the glorious blue of the sky and one felt in a world so full of beauty.

Then, off to Mrs. A. Penrose's home to meet those whose faces have become familiar through Institute work, in so many cases familiarity developing into very real friendships.

After a short business session presided over by our president, Mrs. Roy Harper, who welcomed our guests, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Ramsay, president of Sharon Institute, who expressed the pleasure of Sharon W.I. at sharing our meeting, and then started the program by calling on Mrs. F. Hall for an article on spices. She brought vividly before us the romance of their discovery; the ancient use of some of the spices; and the share that politics and adventure had in bringing us condiments we now consider indispensable.

A very pleasing vocal duet followed, "Sweet and Low", sung by Mrs. Shaw and Mrs. Donaldson.

Then came a reading by Mrs. Harold Boyd which stressed how great a part our feet, our eyes and our spines play in daily life—how much of comfort, cheerfulness, and general efficiency we lose when we do not give these important parts of our anatomy a fair deal.

Next came a reading by Mrs. Eugene Kitely which dealt with the woes of a man who undertook to teach his wife to drive a car. He felt there should be a school for such as he, for he had been driven to near insanity—to shouting incoherent and absolutely meaningless things by what he deemed was his wife's failure to understand why certain things are just not done in driving.

A duet by Mrs. Shaw and Mrs. Donaldson was a pleasant interlude and then Mrs. Weddel gave a reading on "Where do you get your character?" She stressed the part parents, teachers and environment play in this character forming, but in the end the moulding came back to you. One must keep a cheerful mind and open heart if one even hopes to attain a character that will fit one to live happily wherever Providence places its owner.

Mrs. Phil. Hamilton gave a hilarious reading from "We Shook the Family Tree". It was a description of Hildegarde's meeting with beauty clay. Her desire to be beautiful and the awful penalty in impossible situations and disappointments into which it led her, and her emerging from the concrete-like mass, more like a boiled lobster than a human being—wiser, sadder.

The program ended with a contest conducted by Mrs. Haines. It was on "Food" and was won by Sharon two to one.

During the lunch which followed, I was seated between Mrs. Harold Boyd and Mrs. Elgin Evans who staged a little contest, entitled "I will take just one thing if you will". Like the dormouse in Alice in Wonderland I was sitting there small and suppressed when Mrs. Evans turned to me and said, "This is all to try and keep up with you!" I almost crept into my teacup, but another piece of cake sweetened life and I revived again.

50th Wedding Anniversary

The other event I speak of took place on the evening of the same day when Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Williams celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

A family celebration participated in by 25 relatives was held early in the evening and then about nine o'clock they were joined by neighbors and friends and business associates of long standing. They were presented with a chair, a gold all-wool blanket, a beautiful potted plant and a box of chocolates. These were apart from the many gifts from relations.

It was a delightful evening and the writer of this column joins with all the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Williams in wishing them many happy returns.

BLINDCRAFT FEATURE COMMUNITY BAZAAR

Frank VandenBergh is busy completing last minute details in preparation for the Community Bazaar. This bazaar, the third annual one to be held in Newmarket, is sponsored by the Newmarket Handcraft group. It will be held this year in the town hall on Wednesday, Nov. 14.

Mr. VandenBergh's booth will feature blind crafts. Among the articles he will have for sale will be hampers, in seven different sizes, ferneries and waste-paper baskets. These are in reed work. Magazine racks, two styles of end tables and rubber mats will complete his display with the possible inclusion of some lamps.

KETTLEBY W.M.S. HOLDS AUTUMN THANK-OFFERING

The autumn Thank-offering meeting of the W.M.S. was held in the United church hall Oct. 16, at 3 p.m., with the vice-pres., Mrs. H. Burns, conducting the meeting, assisted by Mrs. L. Heacock and Mrs. E. Blatchford.

It was announced that a special Sunday service would be held in the church Sunday, Nov. 18, with Rev. Huston of Victoria Square as guest speaker. There will be lantern slides showing some of the work done among the Indians of Northern Manitoba, where Rev. Huston worked for many years.

Mrs. Burns gave a very vivid and educational talk on our student mission work across Canada, of the Sunday school work being done in the homes by mail and radio in remote areas, and of the mission boats being used on both the British Columbia and Labrador coasts, bringing the church to isolated lighthouses, lumber camps, etc., and of Peter Kelly who is an Indian, an ordained minister with the United church, and also captain of a mission boat with a 500-mile parish on the west coast.

LEGION AUXILIARY TO ENTER BOOTH

The Ladies' auxiliary of the Canadian Legion, Newmarket, met at the Legion hall on Thursday, Oct. 18. Mrs. Paul Tobey presided.

The group catered for two banquets during the month. The business meeting dealt with plans for the auxiliary's booth at the November 14 Community bazaar. They will have a general assortment of handwork for sale. With the serving of light refreshments, the evening came to a close.

BOLENDER - SPEZIALI

On Saturday, Sept. 29, at four o'clock, a pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Domenic Speziali, R. R. 2, Newmarket, when their only daughter, Rose Catherine, was united in marriage to Reginald Anthony Bolender, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bolender, Holland Landing.

Rev. F. MacTavish of Bradford United church performed the cerentony. The wedding music was supplied by Tom and Vincent Speziali, brothers of the bride, who played "Largo" as a saxaphone duet.

Amid a setting of chrysanthemums, dahlias and other autumn flowers, the bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely gowned in white nylon net over taffeta, her finger tip veil caught to a headdress of white roses and lily of the valley. She carried a white Bible with pink sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Tom Speziali was matron of honor gowned in powder blue crepe with shoulder length veil and coronet of flowers to match. She carried a nosegay of variegated roses. Little Miss Valerie Speziali, niece of the bride, was flower girl, gowned in yellow taffeta with hoop skirt. She wore yellow rose buds in her hair and carried a miniature nosegay of variegated roses. Mr. Claude Bolender was best man for his brother.

At the reception Mrs. Speziali received dressed in navy blue with corsage of bronze roses, assisted by Mrs. Bolender in grey with corsage of pink roses. The bride's four brothers, John, Tom, Frank, and Vincent, assisted by Mrs. John Speziali and Mrs. Roy French, served the lunch.

For travelling to Haliburton the bride wore a navy blue sheer dress, grey shortie coat with navy accessories and corsage of pink roses. Her jewellery was a rhinestone necklace, gift of the groom.

BAZAAR BOOTHS PLACED NOV. 13

Tables and booths will be arranged and the displays placed for the Community Bazaar at the town hall on Tuesday, Nov. 13. The bazaar will be open to the public the following day. Articles for this bazaar are to be brought to the hall between 7.30 and 9 p.m. on Tuesday.

The Newmarket Handcraft group, the sponsoring organizations, invites all those who would like to sell their handwork to bring it to the hall on Nov. 13. It doesn't matter if they have only a few items. They are all welcome. Mrs. George McNelly is general convener.

RAMSAY - STEWART

An autumn wedding took place at Christ Church, Deer Park, Toronto, when Doris Gertrude Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Draper, Mount Albert, was united in marriage to Edwin Bruce Ramsay, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Ramsay of Sharon. Rev. W. I. D. Smith of Sutton West officiated at the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an original gown of blush pink faille with jacket of Chantilly lace and tricorn hat of ostrich tips and carried a cascade of stephanotis and tea roses. Mrs. Marshall Lyon of Scarboro Bluffs, sister of the bride, was the only attendant in a similar gown and hat in pale orchid and carried a cascade of white gladioli centred with rosebuds and blue cornflowers.

Orval Ewart of Sutton West was groomsman and ushers were Ross Draper of Mount Albert, brother of the bride, and Robert Young of Toronto.

BURNS - BROWNING

St. Timothy's Anglican church, Toronto, was the setting on Saturday, Oct. 6, for the marriage of Jean Lorraine Browning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Browning, Toronto, to Donald Austin Burns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rolph Burns, King, with the Rev. Henry Marsh officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin and lace, made with fitted bodice and pointed sleeves. The skirt was lace over satin, ending in a long train. Her veil was lace and tulle and she carried a bouquet of white autumn flowers.

Mrs. John Moir, the matron of honor, wore wine velvet, and the bridesmaids were Barbara Browning, sister of the bride, and Marion Burns, the groom's sister. The flower girl was Carol Browning. They wore green velvet with matching hats and carried nosegays of mums in autumn tones. John Moir was best man, and the ushers were Murray Browning and Bill Burns, brothers of the bride and groom.

At the reception held at Glenview Terraces, the bride's mother received in Windsor amethyst with black accessories and corsage of mums, assisted by the groom's mother who chose navy crepe and lace and corsage of mums. Following the reception the bride travelled in a gold suit with green accessories and corsage of chrysanthemums. Their honeymoon took them to the Laurentians, Quebec. The bride and groom will reside in Toronto.

JENKINS - GREENWOOD

On Sept. 8, in a setting of white and pink gladioli at Trinity Anglican church, Aurora, Ruth Gertrude, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Greenwood, Sharon, became the bride of Ronald L. Jenkins, only son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Jenkins, Aurora. Rev. K. D. Whatmough officiated and Mrs. I. Harris played the wedding music.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father who gave her away. She was gowned in white chantilly lace over white faille taffeta made in a floor-length style with a scarf effect neckline, fitted bodice and long lace gloves, and necklace of rhinestones. Her fingertip veil was edged all around with scalloped silk lace and was held in place by a halo of pleated net dotted with rhinestones. She carried a shower bouquet of pink and white roses in a fine fern.

Her only attendant, Miss Violet Curtis, chose a mauve taffeta gown of similar style to the bride's gown with a rhinestone necklace, and carried a cascade of yellow roses and mums.

Little Donna Greenwood, niece of the bride, was flower girl, and wore a floor length gown of yellow organdy over yellow taffeta, and a poke bonnet. She carried a nosegay of yellow mums and gladioli tips.

Mr. W. Swindle was best man, and Douglas Tunney and George Greenwood were ushers.

After the ceremony a reception was held at "Country Acres", Yonge St. The bride's mother received in a navy faille dress and navy accessories with a corsage of white roses and gardinias. Mrs. Jenkins assisted in navy crepe and navy accessories and a corsage of pink and white mums.

The bride and groom left on a two weeks trip to New York State, the bride wearing a pale blue bolero suit and navy accessories and a corsage of pink gladioli and fern. On their return they will live in Aurora.

SHROPSHIRE - ASH

Yellow and white chrysanthemums formed a pretty setting for the wedding at the home of the bride's parents on Saturday, Oct. 20, at 3 p.m., when Durene Marguerite, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ash, Pine Orchard, became the bride of Robert Henry Shropshire, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Shropshire, Pine Orchard. Rev. A. J. Forte officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white slipper satin, with pointed waistline and long pointed sleeves. The nylon net yoke was trimmed with seed pearls at the neckline. The fingertip veil was caught to a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a cascade of white baby mums with a centre corsage of yellow roses.

The bride's only attendant, Mrs. Alma Glover, chose a forest green taffeta gown, fashioned on the same lines as that of the bride. She wore a matching cap and carried a nosegay of yellow and bronze mums.

Mr. Lorne Shropshire, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

During the signing of the register, Miss Betty Shropshire, sister of the groom, sang "Always". She was accompanied by Miss Beth Johnston at the piano.

The bride's mother received in navy crepe with matching accessories, and a corsage of pink roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother, who wore grey crepe with navy accessories and a corsage of talisman roses.

For a trip to Northern Ontario, Eastern Canada and the United States, the bride wore a grey bombay lamb coat with navy accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. On their return the bride and groom will take up residence in their new home at Pine Orchard.

CHESTNUT - WILSON

St. Andrew's Presbyterian "Stone Kirk" at Strange was the scene of a lovely wedding on Friday afternoon, Oct. 5, when Dorothy Muriel Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Wilson, King and Toronto, became the bride of Robert Glenn Chestnut, son of Mr. R. H. Chestnut, Vancouver, B.C., and the late Mrs. Chestnut. Rev. R. J. Berlis of St. Andrew and St. Paul, one of Montreal's oldest churches, and long a friend of the family, performed the ceremony.

The century-old church was resplendent with autumn beauty, the entrance massed with brilliantly colored leaves and gladioli. The windows were banked with autumn foliage interspersed with gladioli of many shades. The front of the church was banked with bright green ferns, cedar boughs, clusters of colored leaves and spikes of gladioli.

Miss Dorothy Armstrong of King played the wedding music. Before the ceremony, Mr. Frank Oldfield sang the old Scottish Psalm, "Unto the Hills." During the signing of the register he sang "I'll Walk Beside You." The congregation sang "Praise My Soul the King of Heaven."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in an imported dress of heavy eggshell corded faille. The moulded bodice was trimmed with heirloom Honiton lace and the flared princess skirt fell in soft folds, ending in a chapel train. Her finger-tip ivory veil was held with a lace cap, and she carried a Talisman rose cascade bouquet.

Miss Anne Janes and Miss Ruth Kinsella, Toronto, were her attendants, wearing emerald green velvet, matching headdresses of leaves, and carrying cascades of dahlias in autumn tones. Mr. J. Bredin, Montreal, was best man, and the ushers were Messrs. Charles Wilson, Belleville, and Jack Talbot, Montreal.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's mother chose a grey crepe dress with cape drapery, and a small Princess softly shaded pink hat. Her corsage was pink roses shading to wine-red, accented with African violets. Assisting was Miss Florence Chestnut, sister of the groom, attired in a gown of violet.

For the honeymoon trip to Haliburton, New York, Boston and the eastern provinces, the bride wore a teal blue crepe suit and small pink hat. Her corsage was a large single chrysanthemum of the same shade. The couple will make their home in Montreal.

OTTON - RIDDIFORD

The marriage of Olive Anne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert John Riddiford of Port Carling, to Mr. James Duncan Otton of Newmarket, son of Mrs. Otton and the late Dr. Stafford Walker Otton, took place on Saturday Oct. 6, in St. James' Anglican church, Port Carling.

Bouquets of bronze, white and yellow mums formed an effective setting for the ceremony, at which the Rev. Archdeacon Lindsell, J.B., officiated.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore white shadow lace and satin. The moulded bodice of lace over satin was fashioned with a wide portrait neckline bordered by scalloped satin bands and trimmed with seed pearls. The long slim sleeves were of lace, and the full flared skirt featured lace applique on the satin giving a peplum effect. The skirt fell gracefully to a slight sweep. Her fingertip veil of tulle illusion was caught by an open-crowned pillbox of matching satin, pearl-trimmed. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and carnations.

Mrs. Darrell McFayden attended her sister as matron of honor, and the bridesmaid was Miss Esther McGee of Toronto.

The bridesmaids wore gowns of bronze taffeta fashioned with little bolero jackets, highlighted by a large Queen Anne collar and short sleeves. They carried yellow and bronze mums.

Mr. John Stafford Otton was groomsman for his brother, and the usher was Mr. Howard Hamilton of Newmarket.

The reception was at Bartwood Manor in Port Carling.

Mr. and Mrs. Otton left on a motor trip through Northern Ontario and will live in Newmarket on their return.

Junior Farmers Prepare For 30th Home Plow Test

The York County Junior Farmers have issued an attractive prize list for their 30th annual Home Plowing Competition which has been so popular in the county. This contest has been largely responsible for keeping up the keen interest in this agricultural sport of match plowing in a county which year after year boasts of so many prize winners in the famous International Plowing Match.

With the opportunity of breaking the ice at home with no curious spectators the young people enjoy getting started on their own land with their own outfits. The prizes this year include a four-piece silver tea service, a wrist watch, three silver trays, a complete set of tractor wrenches, a silver cream and sugar set as well as many cash prizes and trophies.

Judging of the plowing will be done the week of October 29 prior to the East York match which will be held this year on Oct. 31. The annual banquet of the Junior Farmers for the presentation of prizes will be held at Victoria Square on Friday, Nov. 16, when the County Junior Farmer public speaking contest will also be held.

QUEENSVILLE

The next bingo will be held on November 9, so please keep this date in mind and plan to be with us again.

York North Candidates Named

The following are the reports of the nomination meetings of the Liberals, on Saturday afternoon, the Progressive Conservatives and C.C.F. parties on Monday night. All three nominations were addressed by party leaders.

Liberals

CANDIDATE
Elmer Grose

Elmer Grose of North York Township was nominated Liberal candidate in York North on Saturday at Armour Heights public school. Two Newmarket councillor Charles Vanstone and George Byers, and Mayor C. Lee of Aurora were also nominated but all three withdrew their nominations in favor of Mr. Grose.

Mr. Grose spoke briefly, describing his activities in school affairs. He has been a school trustee for 14 years and taken an active part in the school building program in the township. He promised a fighting campaign.

Walter Thomson, Liberal party leader, said that he had travelled throughout the province and everywhere he found a resurgence of Liberalism. We are on the march again, he said. Some years, we have done nothing. Now, we have something to work with.

He said the Liberal party was a party of reform, that "we should reform as we go along to meet the ever-changing needs of the people in an ever-changing world."

He criticized the gas tax, saying that more of it should be spent on roads. He said that he would require more activity of the agriculture representatives in the greater advantage of the farmers. He proposed model and demonstration farms in each county.

He said his plans for hospitalization were based on the best of existing plans, that they were intended to make life better for those who cannot do this for themselves.

Taxation has gone as far as possible, he said. The end of the public ability to pay has been reached, he said. Taxes must be lowered. "What has the government been doing with its surpluses?" he asked.

He was critical of hydro administration, pointing out that the annual report was late in being presented. What have they to hide, he asked. The cost of hydro conversion?

The government has left much undone. The Liberals had a new vigor, could do a better job. The party had the heritage of having done more for the country than any other party. The Liberals would bring a freshness of viewpoint, "legislation with the will of the people, not against them."

N. L. Mathews, K.C., was chairman of the meeting. The riding officers were returned for another term by acclamation. They are: Pres., Collin Campbell, four vice-pres., Charles VanZant, Bruce MacMillan, James Colby and Jack Kierstad.

Douglas McNish, president of the Toronto and Yorks Liberal Association, said that he had never experienced such an upsurge of Liberalism, that he was highly optimistic of success.

C.C.F.

CANDIDATE
Douglas Hamilton

E. B. Joliffe, Ontario C.C.F. leader, adressed a meeting held at the North York Memorial Hall on Monday when Douglas Hamilton was unanimously nominated York North C.C.F. candidate.

Mr. Joliffe said that both Liberals and Progressive Conservatives had in the past completely rejected C.C.F. proposals, but now, recognizing that these plans meet definite social needs, the parties pretend to sponsor similar measures which are not subsequently carried out.

Municipalities urgently need provincial aid in housing, education, health, and welfare, he continued, yet this aid is not forthcoming despite a large provincial surplus. The burden of taxation on the home-owner, however, increased 24% from 1950 to 1951.

Mr. Joliffe pointed out C.C.F. achievement in the hospital plan in Saskatchewan, where facilities were almost doubled in five years. In contrast, York township citizens paid eight times as much as the provincial government toward the cost of such projects as the new hospital on Keele Street, a building which only accommodates a fraction of the people needing care.

Mr. Joliffe believes that the present government cancels the effectiveness of such apparently progressive legislation as the Fair Employees' Practices Act. Designed to prevent unfair discrimination, the Act requires that the employee state his own case and run the risk of consequences if his plea fails.

Howard Conquergood presided at the meeting, and Dudley Bristow, former York North member, now of Rosedale Riding, also addressed the group.

The new C.C.F. candidate, Douglas Hamilton, age 34, is a member of the A.F. of L. and is an organizer working with 14 unions in Local 27, Craft Union of Carpenters, in Toronto. He was born in Callender, worked at a variety of jobs in Northern Ontario, and was in the army for three and a half years.

In his acceptance speech, Mr. Hamilton stated that in his opinion, improved distribution was even more important than increased production, and that the farmer and factory worker must work together towards this objective and to lessen the influence of certain hostile business interests.

Mr. Hamilton said that the York North municipality needed better roads and sidewalks and other improvements, and expressed his determination to get action. He said that if the present government is returned to power, the people can only anticipate crippling taxes or further neglect of municipal needs.

Mr. Hamilton said that he was confident of the backing of union and farm groups in his coming campaign for office.

Conservatives

CANDIDATE
Lex Mackenzie

Lex Mackenzie was nominated Progressive Conservative candidate for York North at the convention Monday night in Armour Heights school. He was not opposed. He has won the riding for the last two elections.

Premier Leslie Frost said that his party appeared before the public with a record of solid accomplishment, not a bundle of promises. He said that science was opening up the resources of Ontario, that the people wanted a proven administration during this great period of development.

He said that the government had a "spectacular record" of achievement for the betterment of life in Ontario. Of rural improvements, he noted expenditures of $30 millions on roads, extension of hydro facilities to cover an additional 600,00 men, women and children, of efforts to improve rural telephone services.

When school grants were introduced seven years ago, the opposition said it couldn't be done but nowadays, $46 millions are spent in school grants and 1,150 new schools have been built. A quarter of tax dollar goes for education, he said.

He said the province spent $40 millions on health services. "We've studied and taken the best of health plans of others," he said. With federal assistance and through provincial efforts, 14,474 hospital beds and bassinettes had been provided but there was still a back log of hospital requirements, a situation which would continue to exist as long as the provincial population was growing at its present rate of 150,000 a year.

Of housing, he pointed to the province's second mortgage provisions. He pointed to record house building and said that such progress had to be a combination of government and private effort. He criticized the federal government's credit restrictions upon housing and felt that his efforts contributed materially to their reduction. But, he pointed out, any housing program was hamstrung by shortages of building supplies. He wanted the federal government to develop a priority system for housing supplies. Only then could the objective of 60,000 units a year be reached.

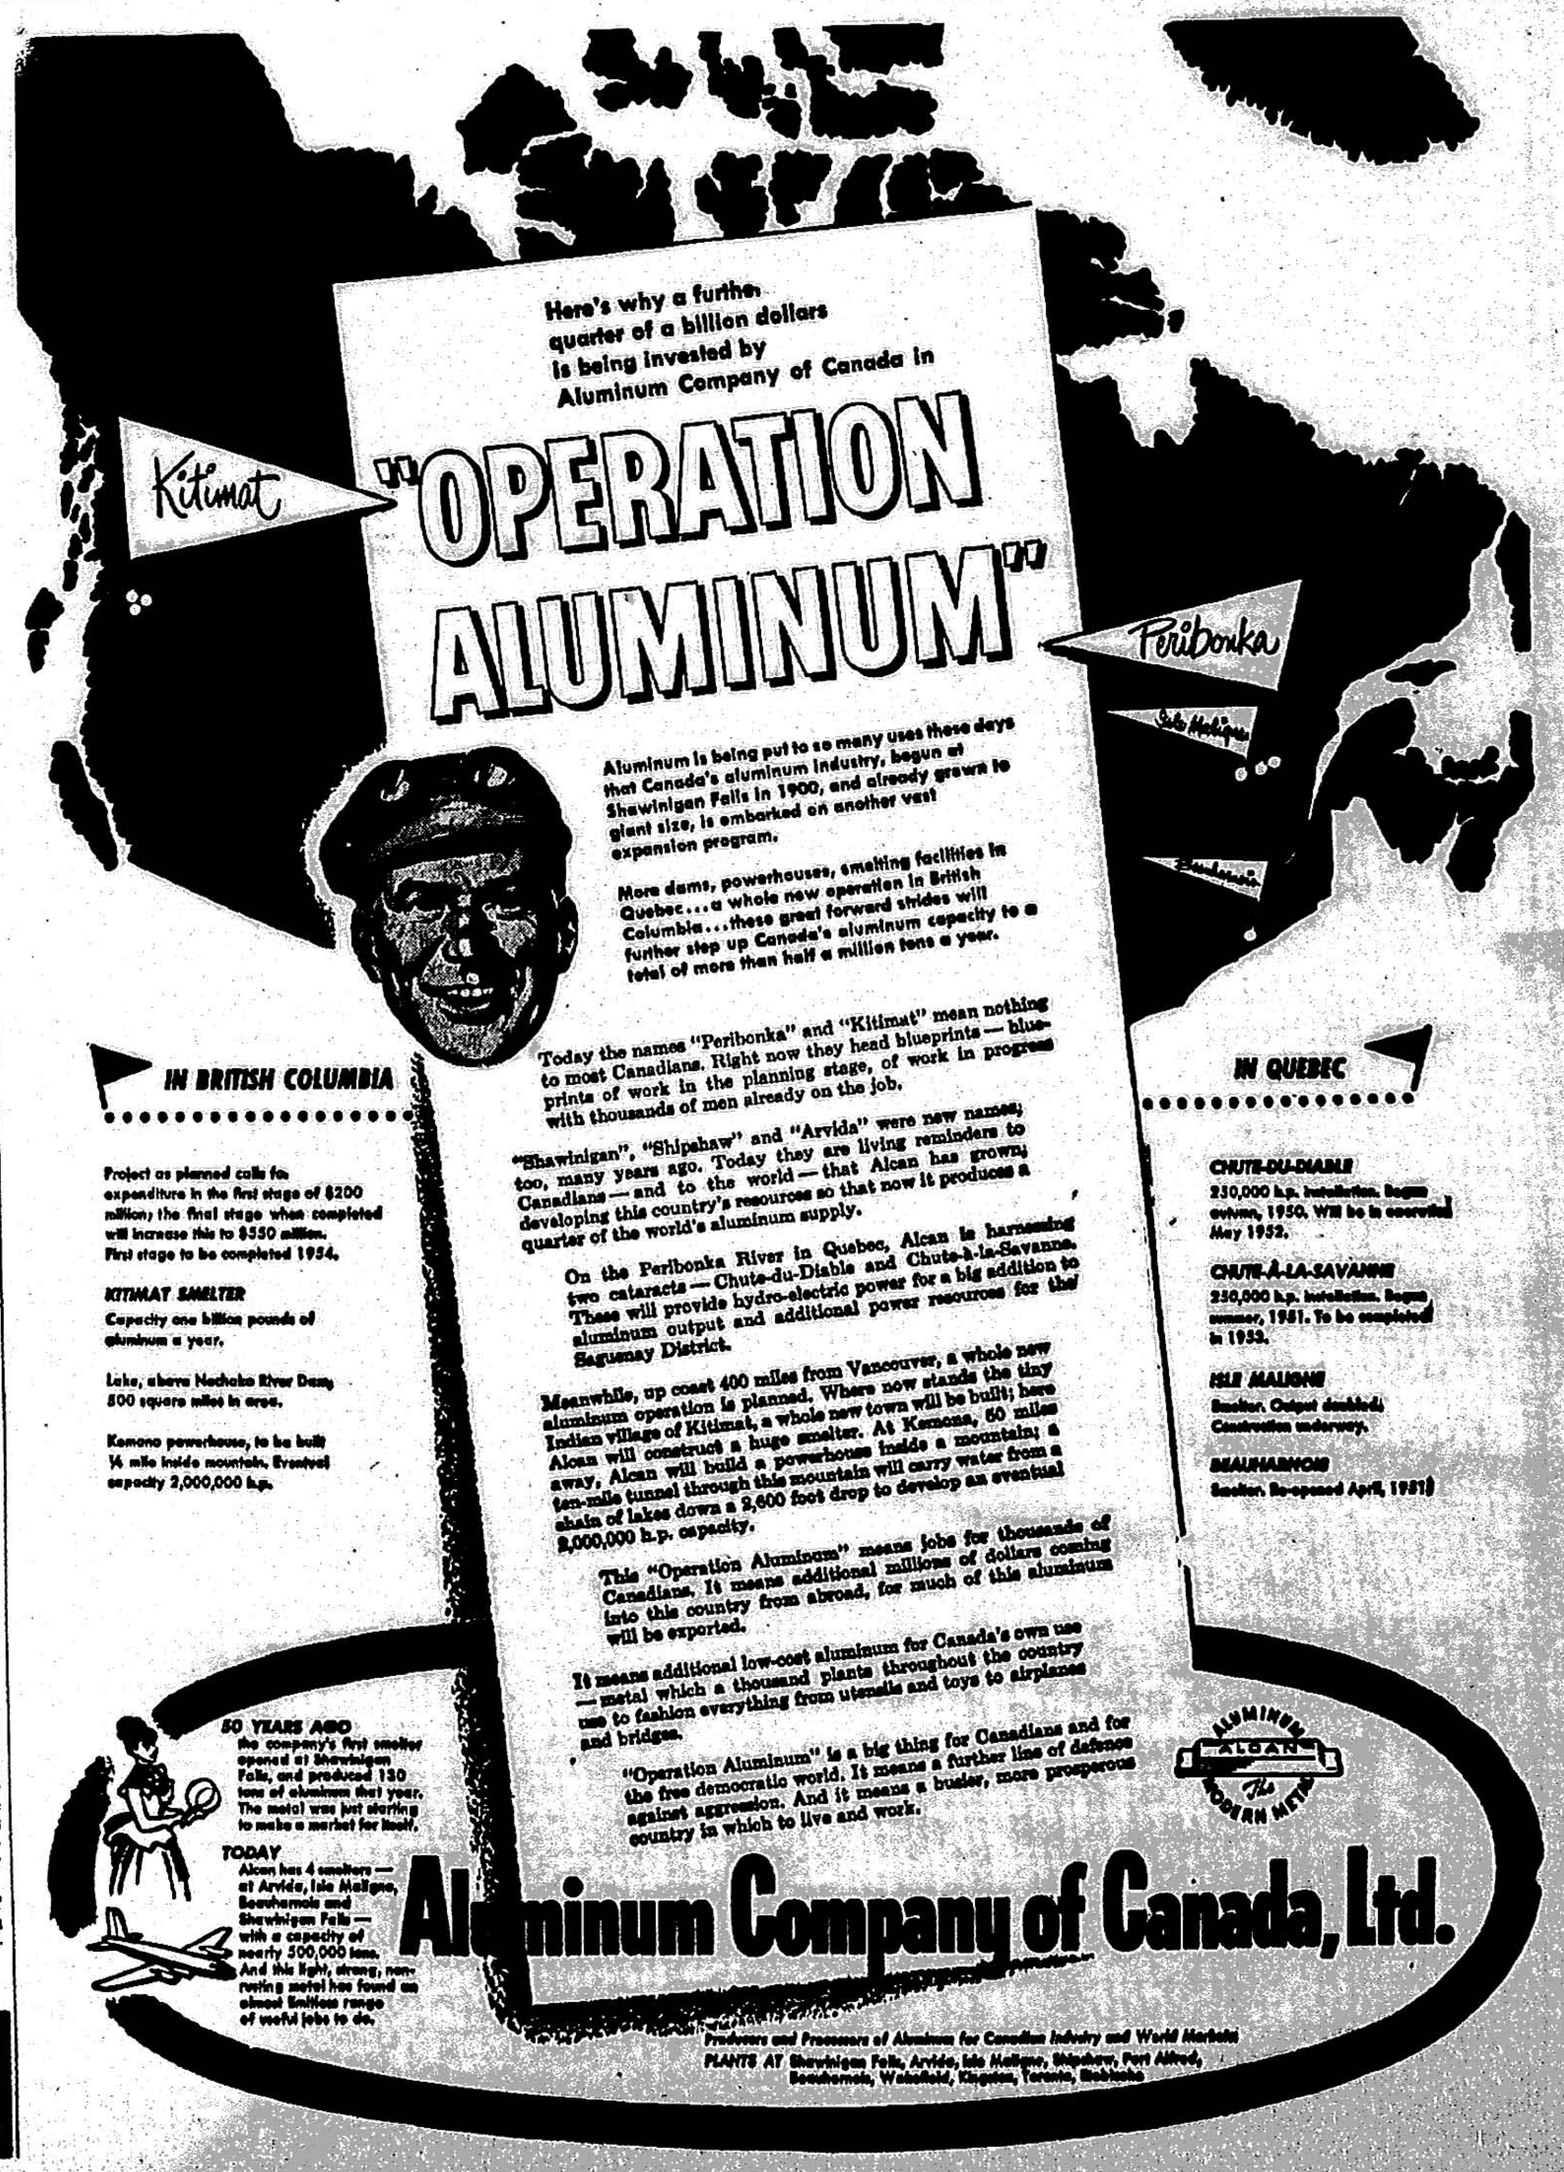

He pointed to the passage of "equal pay for equal work by women" bill and the anti-discrimination bill as accomplishments in the field of human relations.

He had brought in eight balanced budgets and was reducing taxes where they would help most, in death duties, etc. He said that Ontario was ready to go ahead with its share of the St. Lawrence seaway because the province believed in its necessity and because the province was ready to "lay its money on the line".

Earl Toole was chairman of the meeting. An added touch was a piper who piped the platform guests to their chairs.

Laskay W.M.S. and W.A. workers of the United church are preparing for a hot turkey dinner at the church on Friday, Nov. 2, and that means "all the trimmings". Again on Wednesday, Nov. 7, at All Saints' church, King, a turkey supper will be given by the congregation. On Nov. 10 Laskay Women's Institute will be off to an early start that afternoon on a bazaar and afternoon tea in the Laskay hall. Later on in the season, King United W.A. will feature a bazaar, tea and bake sale.

New Organization For King District

A Girl Guide local association was formed Oct. 18 at the home of Mrs. J. L. Grew under the chairmanship of Mrs. D. R. Gunn of Oak Ridges, York County division commissioner. The purpose of the association is to sponsor a Brownie Pack in King district to be known as First King Pack. Those present were Mrs. Don Laing, Mrs. Jack Walker, Mrs. B. J. Langdon, Mrs. Irving L. Scott and Mrs. Grew. Others were unable to be present.

Mrs. Gordon Tetley was chosen association chairman, Mrs. Irving Scott, secretary; Mrs. B. J. Langdon, badge secretary. A treasurer and a vice chairman will be named. Mrs. Gunn advised an executive of six or eight members, which meets regularly. An associate membership expands the interest of the work and general meetings are held at intervals.

Mrs. A. E. Jarvis, Mrs. Gordon Wells, Mrs. J. P. Norris and Mrs. T. L. Williams, representing King Women's Institute, attened the district service held at Aurora on Oct 19 when about 60 listened to a helpful talk given in a special study in human relations by a representative of the W.I. branch of the Department of Agriculture. Mrs. Wells and Mrs. Jarvis will report their impressions to the local branch next month.

King City And District

CORR., MRS. L. E. ROLLING, PHONE KING 8

On Friday, Mr. William H. Hiltz ended 43 years' service with the C.N.R. to go into well-earned retirement. He has been a section foreman since the spring of 1912 after being a section hand at Newmarket and Aurora from 1908. Mr. Hiltz transferred to Wyebridge, near Midland, in 1912 and moved to King village six years later. He will celebrate his 65th birthday on Oct. 31 and has no misgivings about the leisure time ahead, in fact he will find "plenty to do," he says.

Mrs. Hiltz, who has as much knowledge of the railroad business as her husband, would like to travel. She would like a trip to the west coast, but her husband has no inclination to travel on railroad trains. He prefers short motor trips and home again at nights.

Born in Melanthon township, near Shelbourne, Mr. Hiltz applied for a railroad job at Newmarket because farm work was hard to get.

At a banquet given by the Brotherhood of Maintenance and Way at Allandale division on Monday evening, Mr. Hiltz and two companions, also retiring, could recall the vast changes in the size and power and speed of the railroad engines, and hike back to the days when two engines were needed to haul the cars. Mr. Hiltz saw the tracks held in position by spikes, when no tie plates were used. The spread of rails in the old system made plenty of work, he said.

The only railroad wreck in his division section occurred at King a couple of years ago. He has been lucky in the accident line. One time a fellow worker accidently put a bar clean through his foot, pinning it to the tie on the crossing at King. Working in sub zero weather is just part of any section man's experience. Mr. Hiltz recalls a temperature of 54 below at Wyebridge, and a night job at 40 degrees below zero at King when the track broke.

In all his experience Mr. Hiltz has only had to dismiss three men, something of a record for a person who has to size up a man before he hires him.

Prize Terrier

Alert, graceful and a born show-dog, "Shamrock Cuckoo," a young Irish female terrier, brought honors to her new mistress, Miss Carol Brown of King, winning four times at the big international dog show at Oakville Oct 13. Over 500 entries in all breeds drew crowds of spectators. She captured first prize in the open class for females, won the best of breed trophy, the winner's ribbon and the coveted best of winners' ribbon.

Shamrock Cuckoo, a year and a half old, entered her first show at Dixie a short time ago to win the best of breed there. Her next competition will be the annual Toronto Sportsman Show. Linda Lee O'Shaunesy, the four-year-old Irish terrier owned by Carol, was a prize-winner at the C.N.E. and at Dixie show. It is Miss Brown's intention now to establish pet show and breeding stock available to the public.

Hallowe'en parties will be held at King City, Eversley school, and Laskay community on Oct. 31. A magician will come to the village again this year and the W.I. play "In the Suds," will be given in McDonald and Wells' hall.

Thankeffering Theme

At the October meeting of St. Andrew's W.M.S. held at the home of Mrs. H. Pickell, she gave a reading entitled "Things we must not part with," meaning the church, Christian conscience, liberty of thought, speech and action, dearly bought by our forefathers. Mrs. C. A. Black, president, read thoughts on thoughtfulness and also read the final chapter of the current study book. It was decided to engage Mrs. T. L. Williams as guest speaker for the November meeting.

Mr. Albert Hobson will attend a banquet given by Aurora Youth for Christ this Friday. He is the leader of the King organization.

Col. B. A. Upjohn and his wife of King were among the guests entertained by Col. J. F. Ellis and Mrs. Ellis prior to the Pipe Band dance of the Toronto Scottish Regiment at the Royal York hotel, Toronto, Saturday night.

Western Cattle At King

A carload of 60 head of choice beef calves, mostly Hereford, arrived at King railway station last Saturday night, purchased by Alfred McBride at the Saskatoon Stock and Feeder Show at Moosejaw, Oct. 10, 11 and 12. The animals are from 3 to 5 months' old. When fall pasture runs out, they will be housed in the barn, and will be kept for two or three years, fattened as beef cattle, for market.

Considered the best cattle show of western Canada, about 8,000 choice grade stock were sold by two auctioneers, who alternated over 11 hours, for the three days. They were sold from 5 to 50 in a lot, several going to the United States, some bought for Ontario Calf Club work.

When being auctioned, each man's cattle are sold separately. The name of the owner, where he resides, and the average weight of the animals is described by the auctioneer. The prize-winning calves topped 43 cents per lb. and there wasn't a cull in the entire show, said Mr. McBride.

The weather at that time was 75 to 80 degrees. Harvest was in full swing, and cutting was being done with the binder. Fifty percent of the crops would be harvested despite heavy rainfalls, he stated. He stopped over for 10 hours to visit a cousin, Joe Thompson, living in Winnipeg.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Green motored to Belleville for a recent weekend to visit her sister, Mrs. Gay.

Saw Princess and Duke 14 Times

Just how one person could manage to see Princess Elizabeth 14 times in the two-day Toronto visit of their Royal Highnesses might stretch one's imagination. Miss Margaret Bell of Toronto, sister of M. H. Bell of King, seemed to accomplish the feat with very little effort. Every move the Royal couple made, Miss Bell was there and she was not driving a car either. From one street to another she made her way. Her girl friend saw the Princess 12 times. Miss Bell is a figure skater which may account for her agility and persistence. She spent Sunday at the home of her brother here, probably the last visit for a time with the skating season opening. She is often a judge at skating competitions.

Seven young children enrolled in Mrs. Burwell Jackson's junior kindergarten class which opened on Monday morning. They were brought by their mothers, some coming in from Eversley. Two of the children are boys. The classes go from Monday through Friday every morning.

Memory Acres Home Will Be Enlarged

Excavation started this week to enlarge the home at Memory Acres, Kinghorn, which is now owned by Mr. Bruce Davis, Toronto, and was built by his late father, Mr. Aubrey Davis. The dwelling overlooks what used to be called the flats, but is actually now a park site for the branch of the Humber River.

The present house is not large enough to accommodate the Davis family, the parents and four sons. One of the new features of the addition, we believe, will be the erection of a library room. Mr. and Mrs. Davis (Carol Langstaff) were the authors a few years ago of the history of the Davis family. When the additions are completed the family will be year-round residents at Kinghorn, we understand. The two youngest lads, Rolph and Tim, would attend Kinghorn school, the home school of the early Davis family.

Municipal Nominations Nov. 23

King township municipal nominations will be held at Schomberg town hall on Friday, Nov. 23, at 1 p.m., for the offices of reeve, deputy-reeve and three councillors. The election date is Monday, Dec. 3, from 9 a.m. until 7 p.m. Council was returned to office by acclamation for a second term last November. The reeve is Elton Armstrong; deputy-reeve, T. Arthur McCutcheon; councillors, Russell Snider, Ray Jennings and Wm. Hodgins.

Annual Armistice Gathering

The second annual turkey banquet for all veterans and their friends will be held on Monday, Nov. 12, 7 p.m., in the basement of King United church. This event is held in recognition of Armistice. The entertainment will be held in McDonald and Wells hall, and is sponsored by the Canadian Legion 438, Ladies' Auxiliary. Plans are being made to provide an outstanding speaker for the banquet, and local clergy will take part. This Armistice gathering should find ready response from all veterans. Mr. Don F. Findlay is the legion president, and Mrs. Beryl Fleet is the auxiliary president.

King City Wrestlers

King City Wrestling Club will participate in the first amateur wrestling show of the season for Toronto on Saturday, Oct. 27, at 8 p.m. From the local club will be Bill Brown, Wesley Thomas and Bill Walker competing against Toronto opponents. A special feature of the show will be a group of King City juniors competing amongst themselves. They will be Donald Gordon, Glenn Judd, Bert Archibald, Roddy Bell, Bill Patton and Richard Chaplin. They will open the program in order to permit them to return home early in the evening.

Citizens of the district are urged to attend the show to cheer their home boys and see for themselves the sportmanship that is being taught. The Y. M. C. A. is an ideal setting for competitions and we understand the boys are "at their best", under these circumstances. Under their coach, Bob McLeod, their training stands out clearly when they are with other contestants. Senior boys train twice weekly at King, while the juniors are coached once a week.

Successful Apple Day Canvass

The sum of $77 was raised by King cubs and scouts on Apple Day, the annual fund-raising project. The amount exceeded last year's by $21. Looking spic and span in their uniforms, the boys had no difficulty disposing of nearly 20 bushels of shining red Mackintosh apples. The canvassers were motored by J. L. Grew, J. C. Belknap, Jack Hambly and Douglas Scott, and covered a wide area, as far west as the 7th concession to Mr. Edgar Burton's farm, where the Toronto and North York Hunt was in progress, south to Teston, east to the 3rd concession and north some ditsance. Mrs. W. F. Hood, cub leader, expressed appreciation to the drivers.

It was a busy day for the cub pack. In the afternoon five Sixers accompanied by their leaders, Mrs. Hood and assistant, Jack Hambly, were present at the Sixers Council of Central York District, held at York Mills. A Sixer is a cub who has achieved two stripes. There are now 16 enrolled in the King Pack, four having recently enrolled.

Mrs. Maulson Passes

Many friends of the late Mrs. Florence Gould Maulson of Winter Park, Florida, have learned with regret of her passing, after a lengthy illness. She was interred in La Grange cemetery, Titusville, Fla., on Oct. 15. Surviving are her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Gould Rutt of Toronto. Mrs. Maulson came to Eversley district from Toronto more than ten years ago, to occupy the property formerly owned by Wm. Cairns, grandfather of James Cairns, and Farren and Jean Cairns of King. Mrs. Maulson remodelled the dwelling and called it "Wynssong", the name retained by the new owner, Dr. Cecil Summerfeldt. Mrs. Maulson took up residence in Florida over a year ago.

Mrs. Jim Snelgrove has been confined to bed. She required injections of penicillin for some time.

Mrs. Cecil Walker spent a weekend with her aunt, Mrs. Harvey Rogers, at Toronto, and attended St. David's church where a Masonic service was held. Her aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Riddell of Detroit returned home last Saturday after visits at King, Maple and Toronto. Mrs. Riddell was a guest at the wedding of her grand-niece, Marie Wilson, daughter of Mervin Wilson, who is a nephew of Mrs. Riddell.

Mrs. Proctor, formerly of Albion township, is living in the apartment in Mrs. Wells McDonald's house. Her daughter at Eversley is Mrs. Leonard Shropshire, with whom she has spent a great deal of time since her husband's death. Mrs. McDonald's daughter, Mrs. Dave Anderson, has moved to Toronto where Mr. Anderson is employed.

Mr. W. F. Poag is the pilot with the Toronto Globe and Mail plane which carries newsmen and photographers on the Royal tour across Canada.

Mrs. Mina Bridgeman of Snowball has moved into the Tawse home at Eversley, following her farm auction sale this month. This was her home before her marriage, where her brother, Jim Tawse, and sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Follott, live.

Convention Reports At Legion Auxiliary

King Legion Auxiliary heard summaries of the 23rd annual convention of the Ontario Command of Legion Ladies' Auxiliaries held at Timmins early this month from Mrs. Beryl Fleet, local president, who was delegate for Zone 22, and Mrs. Hazel Campbell, who represented her auxiliary at King. Mrs. Elias Bice, a charter member of the King L.A., accompanied them. They found the four-day sessions held in Timmins Legion hall full of interest and variety.

A resume of the convention was presented at the regular meeting last week by Mrs. Campbell, supplemented by impressions by Mrs. Fleet. One interesting feature was the presence of a past provincial president, Comrade Greenaway, who held that office 32 years ago. She was about 80 years of age, and was a real inspiration to her junior comrades at the convention. Mrs. Louise Long, Toronto, was re-elected at head of the provincial command.
